Thanks to all reviewers!

The standard of quality and ambition of a scientific journal is guaranteed to a great extent by the peer review system, where highly qualified scientific colleagues provide constructive criticism and comments to submitted manuscripts.

Apart from the members of the editorial board, the EJCP has the advantage of collaborating with a number of helpful scientists for the scrutiny of submitted material. Listed below are those colleagues outside our present editorial board who contributed as professional reviewers during the year 2015. From the journal I want to extend my sincere thanks for their valuable contributions doing reviews during the past year.
