
Epilogue

For Learners . . . No matter what you do, make it your best.
Leave nothing undone.

Be sensitive to your own way of growing,
And

Have clear goals for yourself.
Be strict in your journey
Toward their fulfillment.

Learn to know and to feel with yourself.
Only then will you be free to know and
To feel with others.

Set high goals and then
Put your mind on reaching them.

In all, only hold on to the positive and Illuminate it.

Life can then be full of sunshine;
Life can then be successful
At every moment. . . .
