Correction to: Australian Coastal Systems

Correction to: A. D. Short, Australian Coastal Systems, Coastal Research Library 32, https://doi.org/10.1007/978-3-030-14294-0

An earlier version of the book has been published with certain errors. This has now been corrected and the following are the corrections:

Chapter 1: The Australian Coast: Introduction

- The correct version of the caption for Fig. 1.6 (b) in page no. 15 is as follows: "Western Australia (yellow) and Queensland (green). Note the peak in the west in the Pilbara region"
- The correct version of the caption for Fig. 1.31 in page no. 54 is as follows: "Coffeerock exposed at the base of white Pleistocene dunes on (a) Broadwater Beach (NSW-29) and (b) Ten Mile Beach (NSW-29). (Photos: AD Short)"
- The correct version of the caption for Table 1.5 in page no. 57 is as follows: "Distribution of estuarine areas by State (km²). (From Bucher and Saenger 1991)"

Chapter 2: Tropical Northern Province

• The correct version of the caption for Fig. 2.2 in page no. 93 is as follows: "(a) Co-tide (left) and (b) co-range (right) lines for northern Australia. The co-tide illustrates the clockwise movement of the tidal waves around two amphidromic points south of New Guinea, together with others in the Pacific and Indian Ocean (not shown) resulting in a complex series of tidal systems across the northern
