Erratum to: Found Phys (2013) 43:182–200 DOI 10.1007/s10701-011-9618-4

Following are corrections to the original article:

Page numbers in reference to “The Trouble with Physics” refer to the version the author was sent to review by Nature Physics and may be different in published versions.

The quote in Section 2.1, page 187, “It does not take much foresight or courage to think about strings” should read: “Nor does it take much foresight or courage to think about these things when hundreds of other people are thinking the same thoughts.”

Page 192, last line, cacophany should read cacophony.

Corrected Ref. [5] is Distler, J., Garibaldi, S.: There is no “theory of everything” inside E8. Commun. Math. Phys. 298:419–436 (2010).
