References

References

Kable Market Intelligence 2006. Shared Services in the UK Public Sector. London: KMI.

Mercer HR. 2005 What’s Working – Mercer’s survey of Australia at work. @ www.mercher.co.uk/summary.jhtml/dynamic/idContent/1164340

Aberdeen Group 31
‘accelerate’ programme 255–66
Accenture Human Performance Practice UK, case study 24, 157
career counsellors 40 career path for experts 47 core values of 37–8
defining talent
decision process 42
entry criteria 41–2
permanency of labelling talent 42 recruitment as a source of
talent 42
size of talent pool 41
transparency 43
developing talent
connected conversations 44
development focus 43
development path 43
influence on career 44
organisational values 44–5
risk 45
support 43–4
fictitious narrative 48–50 flexibility of process 47 geographic integration 47 good practice, areas of 46–7 leadership development for junior levels 48
people advocates 40–1
performance management 38–40
personal development 41 retention of good people 47 structures and systems to support
talent management
ownership of talent 46
performance management 45
systems flexibility 46
talent management processes 45
technology, use of 46 succession planning of senior roles 48
Accenture Knowledge Exchange 50 appraisal system 156
Ashridge 2
B&Q Retailers, case study 25, 91, 291
background 125–6
best practice, areas of 135
culture 126–7
defining talent
decision process 130
entry criteria 130
permanency of labelling
talent 130–1
recruitment as a source of
talent 131
size of talent pool 129–30
transparency 131
developing talent
connected conversations 132–3
development focus 132
development path 131
influence on career 132
organisational values 133
risk 133
support 132
development Centre process 135–6 dual structures 136 external appointments 136
fictitious narrative 136–8 inclusion of everyone 136 process
‘the academy’ 128
Dof process 128–33
fast-track programme 128–9 performance reviews 127 promotions 129
talent 127–8
speed of job rotation 136 strategic imperative 126 structure 126
structures and systems to support
talent management
ownership of talent 134
performance management 133
systems flexibility 134
talent management
processes 134
technology, use of 134
Banco, case study 25, 32–3, 157
best practice, areas of 87
cross cultural application 87
defining talent
decision process 82–3
entry criteria 82
permanency of labelling
talent 83
recruitment as a source of
talent 83
size of talent pool 82
transparency 83
depth of application of process 87
developing talent
connected conversations 85
development focus 84
development path 83–4
influence on career 84
organisational values 85
risk 85
support 72–3
fictitious narrative 88–9
HR roles 82
information recording 87 performance maximisation 79 ROI prioritisation matrix 81 structures and systems to support
talent management
ownership of talent 86–7
performance management 85–6
systems flexibility 86
talent management processes 86
technology, use of 86
talent grid 80–1 talent management strategy 78–9 talent overview eye 81 talent reviews and workshop 79
Barlow, L. 91
Berger, L. A. 11, 16
Boole, G. 8, 28
Boudreau, J. W. 16, 25
Bryan, L. 160
Burke, R. J. 21, 27
career, influence on
Accenture, case study 44
B&Q Retailers, case study 132
Banco, case study 84
Grant Thornton, case study 73
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 222
Lloyds TSB, case study 177
M&G, case study 147–8
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 193
Metropolitan Police, case study 248
Mills & Reeve, case study 60
MotorCo, case study 105
National Probation Service, case study 262
Network Rail, case study 209
public sector competitive model, case study 273
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 282
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 116
career counsellors 40
career management 10–11
Career Management Unit (CMU) 239 career planning and succession planning 234–5
Carey, D. C. 9
Centre for Vocational Excellence (COVE) 239 change management 5, 159
Chartered Management Institute 2, 3, 25, 27, 158 Cheltenham & Gloucester 163 Chowdhury, S. 12, 16, 31 communal culture 15 communication culture 15 community leadership 231
competence 156
competitive model, for talent management 228 competitive perspective 4, 15, 287–8, 292
Conger, J. A. 10, 156
connected conversations
Accenture, case study 44
B&Q Retailers, case study 132–3
Banco, case study 85
Grant Thornton, case study 73
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 222–3
Lloyds TSB, case study 178
M&G, case study 148–9
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 193

Index

Metropolitan Police, case study 248
Mills & Reeve, case study 60
MotorCo, case study 105
National Probation Service, case study 262
Network Rail, case study 209
public sector competitive model, case study 273–4
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 282
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 116–17
consultants 39–40
Corporate Development Group (CDG) 230 Creelman, D. 16, 158
cultural perspective 4, 15, 287, 292–2
Cunningham, I. 30

decision process
Accenture, case study 42
B&Q Retailers, case study 130
Banco, case study 82–3
Grant Thornton, case study 70–1
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 221
Lloyds TSB, case study 174–5
M&G, case study 144–5
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 191
Metropolitan Police, case study 246–7
Mills & Reeve, case study 58
MotorCo, case study 103
National Probation Service, case study 259–60
Network Rail, case study 206–7
public sector competitive model, case study 272
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 280
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 114 decision-making process 161
developing talent 232
development focus
Accenture, case study 43
B&Q Retailers, case study 132
Banco, case study 84
Grant Thornton, case study 72
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 222
Lloyds TSB, case study 176
M&G, case study 147
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 192–3
Metropolitan Police, case study 247–8
Mills & Reeve, case study 59
MotorCo, case study 104
National Probation Service, case study 261
Network Rail, case study 208
public sector competitive model, case study 273
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 282
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 116
development path
Accenture, case study 43
B&Q Retailers, case study 131
Banco, case study 83–4
Grant Thornton, case study 72
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 222
Lloyds TSB, case study 176
M&G, case study 147
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 192
Metropolitan Police, case study 247
Mills & Reeve, case study 59
MotorCo, case study 104
National Probation Service, case study 261
Network Rail, case study 208
public sector competitive model, case study 273
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 282
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 115–16 development plans 11–12
recruiting talent 12–13
retaining talent 13–14
rewarding talent 14–15
Index

developmental perspective  4, 15, 288, 292–3 Diageo  15
Digeorgio, R.  92
diversity initiatives and talent management, convergence of  290 diversity management  18–21
Donahue, K. B.  16

Electrolux  10
entry criteria
Accenture, case study  41–2
B&Q Retailers, case study  130
Banco, case study  82
Grant Thornton, case study  70
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study  221
Lloyds TSB, case study  174
M&G, case study  144
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study  191
Metropolitan Police, case study  246
Mills & Reeve, case study  58
MotorCo, case study  103
National Probation Service, case study  259
Network Rail, case study  206
public sector competitive model, case study  271–2
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs)  280
UnitedHealth Europe, case study  114 external recruitment  185, 186

Farley, C.  18, 158
formal succession planning  234 Friedman, L.  31
Fulmer, R. M.  10, 156

Gandossy, R.  13–14
Ghoshal, S.  10, 94
Glover, S. H.  99
‘Go4It’  127
Goodman, M. R. V.  12
Grant Thornton, case study  28, 157 consistency between offices  76
culture  66–7
defining talent
decision process  70–1
entry criteria  70
permanent of labelling talent  71 recruitment as a source of talent  71–2
size of talent pool  70
transparency  72
developing talent
connected conversations  73
development focus  72
development path  72
influence on career  73
organisational values  73–4
risk  74
support  72–3
equality of support provisions  76
fictitious narrative  76–7
follow-up development  69
good practice, areas of  75–6
secondments, use of  76 selection for DC1  76
strategy  66
structures and systems to support talent management
ownership of talent  75
performance management  74
systems flexibility  74
talent management processes  74
technology, use of  74
support for talent process  76
talent management  67
development centre 1 (DC1)  68, 69, 70, 73, 76
development centre 2 (DC2)  68–9, 70, 73, 75
timing of DC1  76
Gratton, L.  10, 94
Group Operations Leadership Development Programme  172 Gutheridge, M.  160

Handfield-Jones, H.  92
Hansen, F.  160
Heinen, J. S.  10, 16, 154
High Potential Development Scheme (HPDS), for police officers  240–3, 244, 246, 248, 249 benefit  241
self-selection  240
high potential employees  156 Hotel de Vin  184, 185
HR management and talent management  295
HR planning perspective  4, 15, 236, 288, 291–2
HR systems  154
HRM
  differences in operationalisation  19–20 services offered by  17–18
IBM  14
IDeA  233
Intensive Development Programme, for high potential police staff  240
IOMA’s HR critical issues survey  1, 9, 14
Ipsen pharmaceuticals, case study  159, 216
  appraisal system, reviewing  225
  background  216–17
  coaching and mentoring processes, formalizing  225 culture  218
  defining talent
    decision process  221
    entry criteria  221
    permanency  221
    recruitment as source of talent  222
    size of talent pool  221
    transparency  222
  developing talent
    connected conversations  222–3
    development focus  222
    development path  222
    influence of career  222
    organisational values  223
    risk  223
    support  222
  expanding Ipsen Academy  224–5 fictional narrative  225–6 formalising system  225
   good practice  224
Head Office function  217 HR processes  218 appraisal  218–19
  competencies  219
  development  219–20 geographical moves  220 promotion  220
  recruitment  220
  retention  220–1 succession planning  220 talent system  221
  IPAP process  218–19
  strategy  218
  structure  217–18
  structures and systems to support talent management
    ownership of talent  224
    performance management  223
    systems flexibility  224
    talent management processes  223
    technology, use of  223
    talent dimensions  221
IT system  158, 159
job satisfaction  29, 37
Kable Market Intelligence  230
Kao, T.  13–14
Kermally, S.  14 knock-on effect  161
Krewson, H.  91
LaRocco, J. M.  15, 34
Lawler, E. E. I.  17
leadership models  229–30
Leitch Report  238
Lincoln Financial Services  14
Lloyds TSB (LTSB), case study  157, 163
  Area Director talent programme  175 Business Leadership Programme  175 career paths process  168–70, 179 consistency, maintaining  181–2 core approach to talent management in  168 corporate ownership  181 current performance  166
  defining talent
    decision process  174–5
    definition  165–6
    entry criteria  174
    permanency  175
    recruitment  175
    size of talent pool  173–4
    transparency  175–6
  developing talent
    career management  177
    connected conversations  178
    development focus  176
    development path  176
Lloyds TSB (LTSB), case study – continued
organisational values 178
risk 178
support 176–7
divisional-level talent management 167
evolving process 173
fictitious narrative 182–3
good practice 180–1
Graduate Leadership Programme 171–2
graduate talent pool 171–2 Group IT and Operations division 164
Group Operations Leadership Development Programme 172 Group Talent Dashboard 170 group-level talent management 167 individual-level talent
management 167
insurance and investments 163–4 line managers 177, 179 people review and talent dashboard 170
performance management 165
personal scorecard 169 purpose of talent management in 166 requirements, anticipating 181 Retail Banking division 179 risk management 182 Specialist Graduate Programmes 171
strategic context 164–5
structures and systems to support
talent management
ownership of talent 180
performance management 179
systems flexibility 180
talent management processes 179
technology, use of 179–80
talent challenge 165
Talent Champion 175, 179, 180 talent management process 167–8, 179 talent management team, structure of 168
talent pools 171, 175
team-level talent management 167 UK retail banking 163 wholesale and international banking 164
Lockwood, N. R. 29, 97
M&G, case study 95, 139, 157, 291
best practice, areas of 152 corporate commitment to people investment 143–4
defining talent
decision process 144–5
entry criteria 144
permanency of labelling
talent 145
recruitment as a source of
talent 145–6
size of talent pool 144
transparency 146
developing tailored approach 141–2
developing talent
connected conversations 148–9
development focus 147
development path 147
influence on career 147–8
organisational values 149
risk 150
support 147
external coaches and match-making skills 142–3
fictitious narrative 153 internal mentors as informal coaches 142
power of one 152
structures and systems to support
talent management
ownership of talent 151
performance management 150
systems flexibility 151
talent management
processes 150–1
technology, use of 151
system dynamics 153 talent planning 140–1
valuing difference 143
M&G Fund Management 90, 91 Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 30, 90, 98, 157, 159, 184 attracting and recruiting talent 187 employer brand 187 graduate programmes 187–8 local ‘ambassadors’ 188 recruitment schemes 187 culture, managing 196
defining talent
decision process 191
entry criteria 191
permanency of labelling
talent 191
recruitment as a source of
talent 191–2
size of talent pool 190
transparency 192
developing talent
connected conversations 193
development focus 192–3
development path 192
influence on career 193 organisational values 193–4
risk 194
support 193
diversity monitoring 197
fictitious narrative 197–9
good practice, areas of 195 growth versus consideration 196 identifying and developing
talent 188
competency framework 188 on-the-job learning 189 Talent Bank 189, 190, 196
Talent Toolbox 188
two way communication 189 individual/role competencies 197 mobilising talent across group 189–90
potential versus promotability 197 segmentation of talent 197
strategic context 185
systems and structures to support talent
management
ownership of talent 195
performance management 194
processes 194
systems flexibility 195
technology, use of 194
talent challenge 185–6
talent dimensions 190
talent pipeline 186–7 turnover, managing 197
decision process 191
permanency of labelling
talent 191
recruitment 191–2
transparency 192
measurable outcomes, of talent
management 158
mentoring 11, 83–4, 93–4, 114 mercenary culture 14
Mercer Human Resource
Consulting 13, 95
Metropolitan Police, case study 157, 235, 237
Career Management Unit
(CMU) 239
Centre for Vocational Excellence (COVE) 239
Chief Superintendents 243 consensus in definition 251 clarity of definition 251
decision-making process 251
defining talent 246
decision process 246–7
entry criteria 246
permanency 247
recruitment 247
size of talent pool 246
transparency 247
developing talent
connected conversations 248
development focus 247
development path 247
influence on career 248
organisational values 248–9
risk 249
support 248
external stakeholders, in TM 238–9
fictitious narrative 252–4
good practice 250
internal resentment, potential for 251
Metropolitan Police Authority (MPA) 238
narrow pyramid 251
National Policing Improvement Agency (NPIA) 239
National Senior Careers Advisory Service (NSCAS) 243
processes 239
High Potential Development Scheme (HPDS), for police officers 240–3 Intensive Development Programme, for high potential police staff 240
Marks, Scott 112
Marshall, J. 10
mavericks, in organisation 161
Metropolitan Police, case study – continued provisions, for senior staff and officers 243–4
self-selection 242
stakeholder involvement 251
strategic context 237–8
structures and systems, to support talent management
ownership of talent 250
performance management 249
processes 249
systems flexibility 250
technology, use of 249
Superintendents 243
talent dimensions 246
TM framework 244–5
Metropolitan Police Authority (MPA) 238
Michaels, E. 10
Mills & Reeve, case study 33, 51
culture and values 62
defining talent
decision process 58
entry criteria 58
permanency of labelling talent 58–9
recruitment as a source of talent 59
size of talent pool 58
transparency 59
developing partners 62
developing talent
connected conversations 60
development focus 59
development path 59
influence on career 60
organisational values 60
risk 60
support 59
engaging associates 62 ensuring informal processes support 63 extending TM to solicitors 63
fictitious narrative 63–5
formal talent management associate career workshop 55 associate selection 56–7 development opportunities 56 partner selection 57 role profiles 54–5 transparent selection processes 56 frank discussions 63
good practice, areas of 61–2 informal talent management system 53 L&D strategy 63
linking TM with diversity 63 mind the gap 53–4
strategic context 52
structures and systems to support talent management
ownership of talent 61
performance management 60–1
systems flexibility 61
talent management processes 61
technology, use of 61
talent and tradition 52–3 Ministry of Justice 255 monster.com 12
Morton, L. 12, 14, 16, 92, 158
MotorCo, case study 27, 30, 90, 93, 157, 160
best practice, areas of 107
defining talent
decision process 103
entry criteria 103
permanency of labelling talent 103
recruitment as a source of talent 103–4
size of talent pool 103
transparency 104
developing talent
connected conversations 105
development focus 104
development path 104
influence on career 105
organisational values 105–6
risk 106
support 104–5
difficult conversations 108 ‘end of career’ application, use of 107
fictitious narrative 108–9 lack of internal vacancies 108 performance ranking 101–3
Personnel Development Committees (PDCs) 100–1 structures and systems to support talent management
ownership of talent 107
performance management 106
systems flexibility 106–7
talent management processes 106
technology, use of 106
time consuming nature 108 Mucha, R. T. 14 mutual investment 11
mylearning.com 46, 50
National Policing Improvement Agency (NPIA) 239, 244
National Probation Service, case study 28, 157, 255
‘accelerate’ programme 255, 256 action learning, maintaining 266 assessment curve 257–8
culture 256
defining talent 259
decision processes 259–60
entry criteria 259
permanency of labelling talent 260 recruitments 260
size of talent pool 259
transparency 260–1
developing talent
connected conversations 262
development focus 261
development path 261
influence on career 262
organisational values 263
risk 263
support 261
development programme 258–9 externals, quality of 266
fictitious narrative 266–7
good practice 264–5
job changes 265–6
line manager support 260, 265 objectives, achieving 266 positive action programme 256–7 strategy 255
systems and structures, to talent management
ownership of talent 264
performance management 263
systems flexibility 264
talent management processes 263–4
technology, use of 264
talent management processes 257
National Senior Careers Advisory Service (NSCAS) 243 negative cultures 14–15
Network Rail, case study 159, 200
developing talent
connected conversations 209
development focus 208
development path 208
influence on career 209
organisational values 210
risk 210
support 208
development versus assessment 213 dialogue 213
expanding talent management 213
fictitious narrative 213–15 Functional Directors, buy-in of 213 future developments 204
good practice, areas of 212
leadership behaviours, clarity around 213 Leadership Development Group 201, 208 partnership 213
Senior Leader Programme (SLP) 203
strategic context 201–2
systems and structures to support talent management
ownership of talent 211–12
performance management 210
processes 210–11
systems flexibility 211
technology, use of 211
talent dimensions 206
decision process 206–7
entry criteria 206
permanency of labelling talent 207 recruitment process 207
size of talent pool 206
transparency 207
talent management strategy 202–3 talent pool 203–4
size of 206 talent specialist, developing 213
transparency 205, 207
understanding of talent 205–6 networked culture 14 networking 161
Ng, E. S. W. 21, 27
‘9 box model’ of B&Q Retailers 126, 127, 130, 134 ODPM 230
on-boarding 31
O’Neil, C. 10, 16, 154
operational dimensions impact on structure and systems 6–7 impact on talent development 6 talent identification 5–6
organisational values
Accenture, case study 44–5
B&Q Retailers, case study 133
Banco, case study 85
Grant Thornton, case study 73–4
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 223
Lloyds TSB, case study 178
M&G, case study 149
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 193–4
Metropolitan Police, case study 248–9
Mills & Reeve, case study 60
MotorCo, case study 105–6
National Probation Service, case study 263
Network Rail, case study 210
public sector competitive model, case study 274
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 283
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 117
outsourcing 230–1
ownership of talent
Accenture, case study 46
B&Q Retailers, case study 134
Banco, case study 86–7
Grant Thornton, case study 75
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 224
Lloyds TSB, case study 180
M&G, case study 151
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 195
Metropolitan Police, case study 250
Mills & Reeve, case study 61
MotorCo, case study 106
National Probation Service, case study 264
Network Rail, case study 211–12
public sector competitive model, case study 275
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 284
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 119 paradoxes with talent management systems 290
change management
perspective 293–4
competitive perspective 292
cultural perspective 291–2 development perspective 292–3
diversity initiatives and talent management, convergence of 290
HR planning perspective 291–2 performance management and talent management, convergence of 290 process perspective 291 recognition 290 rotating out of consequences 290–1
transparency 294
people advocates 40–1, 47
performance culture 14–15
performance management
Accenture, case study 45
B&Q Retailers, case study 133
Banco, case study 85–6
Grant Thornton, case study 74
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 223
Lloyds TSB, case study 179
M&G, case study 150
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 194
Metropolitan Police, case study 249
Mills & Reeve, case study 60–1
MotorCo, case study 106
National Probation Service, case study 263
Network Rail, case study 210
public sector competitive model, case study 274
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 283 and talent management 285, 290
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 118 performance management process 286
permanency of labelling talent 28–30
Accenture, case study 42
B&Q Retailers, case study 130–1
Banco, case study 83
Grant Thornton, case study 71
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 221
Lloyds TSB, case study 175
M&G, case study 145
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 191
Metropolitan Police, case study 247
Mills & Reeve, case study 58–9
MotorCo, case study 103
National Probation Service, case study 260
Network Rail, case study 207
public sector competitive model, case study 272
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 281
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 115
Personnel Development Committees (PDCs) 27, 100–1
decision process 103
entry criteria of talent pool 103
performance ranking 101–3
permanency of labelling talent 103
recruitment as a source of talent 103–4
size of talent pool 103
transparency 104
Peter Principle 9
Phillips, J. J. 11
Phillips, P. P. 11
Pollitt, D. 94
process perspective 4, 15, 287, 292
processes, in talent management 157 public sector, talent management in 227 career planning and succession planning 234–5
community leadership 231
competitive model 228
demographic changes 231
developing talent 232 features 227
leadership models 229–30
outsourcing 230–1
recruiting and retaining talent 231–2 segmentation of talent 235–6
shared service model 230
public sector competitive model, case study 268
best practice, areas of 275
Civil Service 269
culture 271
definition of talent 276
developing talent
connected conversations 273–4
development focus 273
development path 273
influence on career 273
organisational values 274
risk 274
support 273
diversity, lack of 276
fictitious narrative 276–8 High Potentials, system for 270 historical legacy 276 leadership training 269 political networking 276 redundancy 269
senior manager 269
structures and support, to support talent management
ownership of talent 275
performance management 274
processes 274–5
systems flexibility 275
technology, use of 275
talent dimensions
decision process 272
entry criteria 271–2
permanency of labelling talent 272
recruitment 272
size of talent pool 271
transparency 272–3
talent pool, identifying 269–71 ‘Talent’ swim 273
Ramstad, P. M. 16, 25
recruiting talent 12–13, 30–2, 231–2
recruitment, as a source of talent
Accenture, case study 42
B&Q Retailers, case study 131
Banco, case study 83
Grant Thornton, case study 71–2
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 222
recruitment, as a source of talent – continued
Lloyds TSB, case study 175
M&G, case study 145–6
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 191–2
Metropolitan Police, case study 247
Mills & Reeve, case study 59
MotorCo, case study 103–4
National Probation Service, case study 260
Network Rail, case study 207
public sector competitive model, case study 272
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 281
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 115
Redford, K. 11, 156 return of investment (ROI) 287–8 change management perspective 288 competitive perspective 287–8
cultural perspective 287
development perspective 288
HR planning perspective 288
process perspective 287
return on talent management, measuring 158 Richardson, W. D. 99
risk
Accenture, case study 45
B&Q Retailers, case study 133
Banco, case study 85
Grant Thornton, case study 74
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 223
Lloyds TSB, case study 178
M&G, case study 150
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 194
Metropolitan Police, case study 249
Mills & Reeve, case study 60
MotorCo, case study 106
National Probation Service, case study 263
Network Rail, case study 210
public sector competitive model, case study 274
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 283
Index 313

Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 222
Lloyds TSB, case study 176–7
M&G, case study 147
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 193
Metropolitan Police, case study 248
Mills & Reeve, case study 59
MotorCo, case study 104–5
National Probation Service, case study 261
Network Rail, case study 208
public sector competitive model, case study 273
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 282
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 116 system flexibility
Accenture, case study 46
B&Q Retailers, case study 134
Banco, case study 86
Grant Thornton, case study 75
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 224
Lloyds TSB, case study 180
M&G, case study 150–1
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 195
Metropolitan Police, case study 250
Mills & Reeve, case study 61
MotorCo, case study 106–7
National Probation Service, case study 264
Network Rail, case study 211
public sector competitive model, case study 275
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 284
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 119 systems and structures, to support talent management 154
Accenture Human Performance Practice UK, case study 45–6
appraisal system 156
B&Q Retailers, case study 113–14
Banco, case study 85–7
Grant Thornton, case study 74–5
HR systems 154
issues 161–2
M&G, case study 150–1
Mills & Reeve, case study 60–1
MotorCo, case study 106–7
ownership, of talent 160
performance management 155–7
systems flexibility 159–60
talent management processes 157
technology, use of 158–9
UnitedHealth Europe (UHE), case study 118–19
talent, defining 245
Accenture, case study 41–3
B&Q retailers, case study 129–31
Banco, case study 82–3
decision process 27–8
talent, defining 245
everything, entry criteria 26–7
Grant Thornton, case study 70–2
Ipsen pharmaceuticals, case study 221–2 issues surrounding 34–6
Lloyds TSB, case study 173–6
M&G, case study 144–6
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 190–2
Metropolitan Police Service, case study 246–7
Mills & Reeve, case study 58–9
MotorCo, case study 103–4
National Probation Service, case study 259–61
Network Rail, case study 206–7
permanency of labelling talent 28–30
public sector 232–4
public sector competitive model, case study 271–3 recruitment as a source 30–2
size of talent pool 24–6
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 279–81
transparency 32–4
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 114–15
talent, developing 245
Accenture, case study 49–51
B&Q retailers, case study 131–3
Banco, case study 83–5
connected conversations 95–6
development focus 92–3
development path 90–1
talent, developing – continued
Grant Thornton, case study 72–4
influence on career 94–5 Ipsen pharmaceuticals 222–3 issues to consider 99
Lloyds TSB, case study 176–8
M&G, case study 147–50
Malmaison, case study 188–90, 192–4
Metropolitan Police Service, case study 247–9
Mills & Reeve, case study 59–60
MotorCo, case study 104–6
National Probation Service, case study 261–3
Network Rail, case study 208–10
organisational values 96–8
public sector 232–4
public sector competitive model, case study 273–4
risk 98
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 281–3
support 93–4
UnitedHealth Europe, study 115–18 talent, difficulties with the word 289–90
talent management
definition 2 development plans and 11–12 diversity and 18–21 HRM and 17–18 succession planning and 9–10
talent management processes
Accenture, case study 45
B&Q Retailers, case study 134
Banco, case study 86
Grant Thornton, case study 74
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 223
Lloyds TSB, case study 179
M&G, case study 150–1
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 194
Metropolitan Police, case study 249
Mills & Reeve, case study 61
MotorCo, case study 106
National Probation Service, case study 263–4
Network Rail, case study 210–11
public sector competitive model, case study 274–5
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 283
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 118–19 talent management programme (TMP) 110–11 holistic approach 113
talent review 111–13
talent pool, size of
Accenture, case study 41
B&Q Retailers, case study 129–30
Banco, case study 82
Grant Thornton, case study 70
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 221
Lloyds TSB, case study 173–4
M&G, case study 144
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 190
Metropolitan Police, case study 246
Mills & Reeve, case study 58
MotorCo, case study 103
National Probation Service, case study 259
Network Rail, case study 206
public sector competitive model, case study 271
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 280
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 114
talent pools 234
talent review workshop 79 talent segmentation 16, 25 Talent Toolbox 188, 194
‘Talent’ swim 273
technology, use of
Accenture, case study 46
B&Q Retailers, case study 134
Banco, case study 86
Grant Thornton, case study 74
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 223
Lloyds TSB, case study 179
M&G, case study 151
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 194
Metropolitan Police, case study 249
Mills & Reeve, case study 61
MotorCo, case study 106
National Probation Service, case study 264
Network Rail, case study 211
public sector competitive model, case study 275
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 284
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 119
Towers Perrin 8, 29
transparency 32–4, 157, 235
Accenture, case study 43
B&Q Retailers, case study 131
Banco, case study 83
Grant Thornton, case study 72
Ipsen Pharmaceuticals, case study 222
Lloyds TSB, case study 175–6
M&G, case study 146
Malmaison Hotel Group, case study 192
Metropolitan Police, case study 247
Mills & Reeve, case study 59
MotorCo, case study 104
National Probation Service, case study 260–1
Network Rail, case study 207
public sector competitive model, case study 272–3
small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) 281
UnitedHealth Europe, case study 115
Tsui, A. S. 11
Tucker, E. 21
Tucker, Ken 12
Tulgan, B. 14
Ulrich, D. 17
UnitedHealth Europe (UHE), case study 30, 90, 98
best practice, areas of 119–20 categorising talent 111
defining talent
decision process 114
talent 115
entry criteria 114
recruitment as a source of talent 115
size of talent pool 114
transparency 115
developing talent
connected conversations 116–17
development focus 116
development path 115–16
influence on career 116
organisational values 117
risk 117–18
support 116
equal opportunities and diversity management 120
fictitious narrative 121–4
HR, role of 114
lack of clarity regarding transparency 120 leadership management 121 line managers’ role 113 recruitment sources 120
structures and systems to support talent management
ownership of talent 119
performance management 118
systems flexibility 119
talent management processes 118–19
technology, use of 119
talent management programme (TMP) 110–11
holistic approach 113
talent review 111–13
‘volunteer’ employee 10
von Seldeneck, J. M. 12
Walker, J. 15, 34
Watkins, C. 156
Werner, Lex (The Limited) 1, 9
Wheeler, Sean 187, 188
Wilcox, I. 10
Winkler, V. 94–5
Wu, J. B. 11