I want to express my gratitude to my supervisor, Jörg Schimmelfennig, for his overall support, for the inspiring discussions of research ideas, for reviewing all my drafts and for co-authoring part of my work, and especially for making me laugh when I needed it.

I am also very grateful to Wilhelm Löwenstein for motivating me to finish this thesis, in a time, when throwing in the towel appeared to be an attractive possibility.

I deeply thank my parents, Avelino y Adela, and my sister Paula, for their unconditional trust, encouragement and love.

Finally, I thank Götz Freytag, who is there for me when it counts.
