Some International Sources on Corruption:

The Internet Center for Corruption Research

A Joint Initiative of Transparency International and the University of Passau, the Center publishes an annual ranking of countries by the extent of perceived corruption in public administration, the Corruption Perceptions Index. The Index for 2006 was released on 6 November.

Global Corruption Report

The 2006 report focuses on the health sector, where lack of integrity can be a matter of life and death.

The Economics of Corruption

A series of lectures given by Professor Johann Graf Lambsdorff at the University of Passau in October 2004.

Opacity Index

A ranking countries by their opacity, i.e. "the lack of clear, accurate, formal, easily-discernible and widely accepted practices". Corruption, the legal system and enforcement, economic policies, accounting guidelines, and regulatory frameworks are all taken into account in judging opacity. This was originally a PriceWaterhouseCoopers project but is now a product of the Kurtzman Group.
