

About the Authors

Editors

Cheng, Yin Cheong is research chair professor of Leadership and Change of the Hong Kong Institute of Education. He is the immediate past president of the World Educational Research Association and the past president of the Asia-Pacific Educational Research Association. He is the chairman of Tin Ka Ping Foundation's advisory board. Prof. Cheng has published 20 academic books and over 250 book chapters, journal articles and other publications internationally. Some of his publications have been translated into Chinese, Hebrew, Korean, Spanish, Czech, Thai and Persian languages. He is at present serving on the advisory boards of 17 international journals. Prof. Cheng's research has won him a number of international awards and recognition including the Awards for Excellence from the Literati Network in UK. Prof. Cheng has been invited to give over 110 keynote/plenary presentations by national and international organisations.

Cheung, Alan Chi Keung is currently professor in the Department of Educational Administration and Policy and director of the Centre for University and School Partnership at the Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK). His research areas include international education, school reform and research reviews. He was a recipient of the esteemed Palmer O. Johnson Memorial Award for the best academic article by the American Educational Research Association in 2008 and received the Research Excellence Award from the Chinese University of Hong Kong in 2013. Dr. Cheung has conducted research in various countries, including the UK, USA, China, India, Singapore, Malaysia, Indonesia, Ireland and Mexico.

Ng, Shun Wing is professor and the head of the Department of Education Policy and Leadership of the Hong Kong Institute of Education. He is presently the programme leader of the training programmes for aspiring principals, newly appointed principals and experienced principals in the department. He has been in charge of many professional development programmes for principals and teachers in Hong Kong, Mainland China and overseas. He has published widely and internationally in areas of education policies, international education, educational change and reform, home-school relations and citizenship education. He serves as editorial board member and guest editor of special issue for international journals. He was awarded the Annual Institute for International Studies in Education (IISE) Best Article 2013 for his article, entitled 'Rethinking the Mission of Internationalization of Higher Education in Asia-Pacific Region', by the University of Pittsburgh.

Other Contributors

Bodycott, Peter is professor of teacher education in the Faculty of Education, Science, Technology and Mathematics at the University of Canberra. He has been a leader and innovator in the internationalisation of higher education for more than 15 years. He is internationally recognised for his internationalisation research and development work. Peter has led competitively funded research projects in Australia and Hong Kong. He has published extensively in his research areas of internationalisation such as policy and development, student recruitment and mobility, internationalisation at home and of the curriculum, cross-cultural approaches to teaching and learning and second language teaching and identity development.

Choi, Jocelyn Pik Lin is assistant professor in the Department of Education Policy and Leadership, the Hong Kong Institute of Education. Dr. Choi earned her Ph.D. in education from the University of East Anglia. Her research interests in using the life history method for the inquiries of teachers' lives and career have been greatly inspired by Professor Ivor Goodson. She has published journal articles and book chapters on teacher commitment, teacher identities and role management, teacher professionalism, teacher professional development and teacher stress. She has been teaching courses under the B. Ed and M. Ed programmes, in areas related to qualitative research methods, life and career development and classroom management. She also teaches school-based continuing professional development of teachers in various principal training programmes in Hong Kong and Mainland China.

Gao, Andy Xue Song is associate professor in the Faculty of Education, the University of Hong Kong. His current research and teaching interests are in the areas of language teacher education, learner autonomy, learning narratives sociolinguistics and vocabulary studies. He has published widely in journals including Applied Linguistics, Journal of Multilingual and Multicultural Development, Language Teaching Research, Studies in Higher Education, System, Teaching and Teacher Education and TESOL Quarterly. He is co-editor of System: An International Journal of Educational Technology and Applied Linguistics and serves on editorial boards of The Asia Pacific Education Researcher, Journal of Language, Identity and Education and Teacher Development.

Lo, William Yat-Wai is assistant professor in the Department of International Education and Lifelong Learning, the Hong Kong Institute of Education. His main research interests include education policies and reforms in East Asia and the impacts of globalisation on education. His current research focuses on the significance of culture and values in higher education development and higher education collaborations and possible integrations in East Asia. His publications have appeared in international journals, including Higher Education Policy (Palgrave Macmillan), Globalization, Societies and Education (Routledge), Comparative Education (Routledge), Compare (Routledge) and Higher Education (Springer). He is the author of the book University Rankings: Implications for Higher Education in Taiwan (Springer).

Mok, Joshua Ka Ho is chair professor of comparative policy and concurrently vice president (Research and Development) of the Hong Kong Institute of Education. Before joining the Institute, he was associate dean and professor of social policy in the Faculty of Social Sciences, the University of Hong Kong. Being appointed as founding chair professor in East Asian studies, he established the Centre for East Asian Studies at the University of Bristol, UK, before taking the position at HKU. He is no narrow disciplinary specialist but has worked creatively across the academic worlds of sociology, political science and public and social policy while building up his wide knowledge of China and the region. He has been appointed as chair professor under the Chang Jiang Scholars Programme 2009 for his outstanding achievements in comparative education and East Asian studies. He has published extensively in the fields of comparative education policy, comparative development and policy studies and social development in contemporary China and East Asia.

Tang, Sylvia Yee Fan is assistant professor in the Department of Education Policy and Leadership and the associate dean (teaching and learning) of the Faculty of Education and Human Development, the Hong Kong Institute of Education. Her research covers various aspects of teacher education and development, including initial teacher education, student teachers' professional learning, teachers' continuing professional development and mentoring, as well as the internationalisation of higher education. She has published widely over 30 journal articles and book chapters internationally and regionally. She was a visiting scholar at the Department of Education of the University of Oxford in fall 2008. She teaches a range of courses related to the area of teacher education and development as well as qualitative approaches to educational research at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels and serves in professional development programmes for teachers and school principals.

Yuen, Celeste Yuet Mui is associate head and associate professor in the Department of Education Policy and Leadership, the Hong Kong Institute of Education. She began her career as a teacher and has served as a manager and supervisor in both primary and secondary schools. Currently, she lectures on diversity, catering for individual differences and intercultural sensitivity. Since she earned her doctorate from the Institute of Education, University of London, she has been actively engaged in researching Chinese immigrant and South Asian minority education and policy in Hong Kong. She has led more than 12 research projects including three projects funded by the Education Bureau, one Public Policy Research and two General Research Fund projects supported by the Research Grant Council of Hong Kong. Her research findings have attracted much media attention and contributed to public policy debates.

Yuen, Timothy Wai Wa graduated from the University of Hong Kong having studied economics and political science, and he earned his doctoral degree from Durham University (UK). He serves as an assistant professor in the Education Policy and Leadership Department, the Hong Kong Institute of Education. His research interest is on citizenship/political education and education policies. His recent publications can be found in Intercultural Education, International Journal of Educational Management, Compare, Citizenship Teaching and Learning, International Studies in Educational Administration and Citizenship, Social and Economics Education: An International Journal.

Index

A

Asian markets, 13, 89, 102, 105, 109,
113–115, 118, 121, 126, 129,
136, 141, 142

Australia, 13, 23, 24, 32, 34–37, 85, 89,
90, 102, 104, 108, 109, 111, 113,
118, 119, 121, 126–141, 158–160,
162, 172, 173, 180

C

Chinese, 8, 9, 14, 26, 34, 35, 48, 50, 52–54,
64, 68–72, 82, 88, 89, 91, 93, 94, 108,
109, 115–117, 136, 151–166, 172,
174–176, 178, 186–189, 193, 195–197,
199–201

Cosmopolitanism, 12, 72–74

Cross-border education, 24, 37, 44, 65, 66,
72, 88, 152–156, 160, 162–166

Cross-border mobility, 14, 152, 153, 166–167

Cross-border student migration, 186

E

Educational services, 22–24, 28, 30, 48, 53,
60, 66, 83, 84, 102, 104, 105, 111,
118, 128, 129

Education hub, 4, 6, 9–13, 16, 21–38, 43–60,
63–74, 82, 83, 86–88, 92–96, 108,
111, 118, 120–122, 126, 129, 135,
140, 143, 160, 187

Education industry, 23, 24, 27–31, 33, 38,
64–67, 132, 137

Ethnic Chinese, 14

Export of education, 28, 85, 102, 104, 127,
134, 135, 137

G

Globalization, 2, 9, 12, 15, 16, 95, 96, 108,
116, 172

Governed market, 56

H

Higher education, 24, 127, 159, 171, 176,
179, 180

Hong Kong, 2, 7–14, 16, 23–38, 44–60, 64,
66–74, 81–83, 85–96, 102, 104–121,
126, 128–130, 132, 134, 137, 140–143,
151–155, 159–167, 173, 174, 176–181,
186–201

Human capital, 15, 22, 28, 30, 31, 64, 66, 70

Human resources management, 1, 21

I

Identity, 14, 163–165

Indonesia, 13, 14, 16, 87, 89, 94, 102, 105,
106, 117, 132, 152, 155–157, 159, 160,
162, 164–166, 173

International education, 22, 92

Internationalization, 12, 14, 23, 65–66, 72–74,
92, 127

Internationalisation policy, 14, 171–182

International students, 83, 177, 181

L

Life history method, 152, 155, 166, 167

M

Malaysia, 13, 14, 16, 44, 45, 49, 54,
56–60, 81, 87, 88, 90, 94, 95,
102, 103, 105, 106, 117, 118, 126,
132, 152, 155, 157–161, 163, 165,
166, 173

Market-accelerationist state, 45, 57

Market-facilitating state, 45, 57

N

New university governance, 44

P

Promotion strategies, 83, 85–86, 89

S

Singapore, 13, 23, 24, 31–37, 44–47,
49, 56–60, 81, 85, 89, 90, 92, 95,
102, 104, 108, 111, 113–115, 118,

119, 121, 126–133, 135–137,
139–141, 152, 163, 173, 176,
186, 188, 201

T

Theory of planned behaviour, 15, 186,
188–191, 201

Transnational academic capitalism, 65, 66

Transnational higher education, 44–47, 49,
52–54, 56–60, 83

Transnationalism, 15, 46–53

U

United Kingdom, 13, 52, 126–130, 132–140,
152, 158, 163, 172, 191

V

Varieties of regulatory regimes, 45, 57

W

World class education, 9, 31, 36

World Trade Organization (WTO), 65, 83