Index

accumulation effect 23, 304
accumulation of IT industry 300–4 Japan  see Japan
acquisitions and mergers 173, 174
adaptability 8, 113
Aishin 191
alliances 165, 173, 174
amorphous silicon solar cells 135, 136
anchor firms 14–15, 170–2, 180–1, 196–8
Toyota’s cluster in Tianjin 187–8, 196–7
Antwerp, Belgium 54
ASEAN 97
flow of FDI into 233–4
Japanese investment in 227
ASEAN Investment Area (AIA) 97
Asian Development Bank 34 automobile components manufacturers 144–5
automobile industry
Chinese automotive and parts industries  see Chinese automotive and parts industries Tianjin clusters 11–12, 137–49; background to development 138–41; construction direction 146–9; development characteristics 141–6
Vietnam 60, 61, 67, 91
backyard capitalism 44, 45
Baden-Württemberg, Germany 54, 55
Bangalore software cluster 19–21, 54, 58, 244–77, 316 emergence as leading software cluster 249–57; evolution and recent developments 253–7; rapid growth of Indian software industry 249–53 institutional arrangements for skills development 270–1 local labour markets 19–20, 257–71, 272–3; demand for IT workers 257–62; labour mobility within and between firms 267–8; skills development 268–9; spin-offs 269–70; supply of IT professionals 262–7 Bat Trang 59
batteries  see green battery industry
Beijing University 316
Bharat Electricals 254
bicycle enterprise clusters 12–13, 149–63
competitive advantage 157–60
development and structural features 156–7 recommendations 161–3
structure 160–1
Wangqingtuo Town 150–5
Binh Duong province 42
brand marketing 175–7
Brazil 207
business associations 33
incubator facilitators in Japan 283–90 role in facilitating cluster formation and development in Vietnam 92–5 Ca Mau 89
call centres 252, 290–1
Calpers investment fund 105
Canon 170, 198
capacity-building 14, 169, 170, 180–1, 196–8 Toyota’s cluster in Tianjin 183–7, 196–7
capital 154
social 53, 93, 154
career paths 268–9
catfish 94
cement 60, 61, 68, 91
central planning 101
central urban districts 166
ceramics cluster 59
Chemical and Physical Electric Source Institute 130–1 China 7–17
automotive and parts industries see Chinese automotive and parts industries comparison with Malaysia in trade and investment structures 18–19, 233–7 electronic information industry 115–16, 117
flowchart approach see flowchart approach industrial zones 1–2, 282–3
Tianjin area see Tianjin area
Vietnam and competitiveness of 99
Vietnam and trade with 35–6
China Automotive Industrial Corporation (CAIC) 215, 216
‘China Shift’ 279, 282–3
Chinese automotive and parts industries 15–17, 138–41, 200–21
current concentration 201–3
domestic background 140–1 economic and political factors 217 historical background 203–7; early production and policies 1949–65 203–4; reform era 1978–94 205–7; revolution era 1966–76 204–5
international background 138–9 issues of localization 207–9
Japanese manufacturers in China 218–19
Shanghai area 17, 209–16, 219
total output of automobile industry 188–9, 190, 191 cities 29, 165–6
remedies to activate in Japan 22–4, 299–318
coffee 94
commercialization 53
commodity exports 34–5
commodity production industries 65 commune shading maps 63, 64, 79–87 comparative advantage 51, 143–4, 148–9 compensation spirals 261 competition 1–3, 295
competitive advantage
bicycle enterprise clusters 157–60 change from comparative advantage in Tianjin automobile industry clusters 143–4, 148–9 value chain management 174–7
concentration policy 207–8
competitiveness
current competitiveness index (CCI) 38–9
defining 51
growth competitiveness index (GCI) 38–9
three hierarchies of regional competitive power 114–15 Vietnam 36–9; industrial policy recommendations 99–101 consulting services procedures 185, 186 contents creation companies 290–1 cooperation 1–3, 295
core competence 173, 174, 174–5
core–periphery model 47–9, 200–1 Corruption Perceptions Index 103 costs
competitive advantage and 175, 176–7
labour costs 99–100, 250, 251
low cost advantage 124
reduction 178; telecommunication costs in Okinawa prefecture 291–3 transportation costs see transportation costs Vietnam 99–100, 101
credit 31
critical mass 51
cross-dock logistics 14, 15, 188–91, 197 culture
bicycle enterprise cluster 154 cluster culture 167
current competitiveness index (CCI) 38–9
customer relationship management (CRM) 260 customer satisfaction 173, 174 customer services, IT-enabled 252 customers with discriminatory ability 8, 114 customs duty 178
Cyberjaya 105, 238
Daihatsu 15, 197
Dapice, D.O. 99
demand for IT workers 257–62
Denso 191, 195–6
dependence 119–21
diamond of advantage 50–1, 112 diploma colleges 263, 264, 265
dispersion
  Chinese automotive and parts industries 202–3, 208
electronics industry in Malaysia 227–9 distribution media 8, 112–13 Dong Nai province 99
donor support 33–4, 101
dot density maps 63, 64, 65–78
dynamic competitive advantage 148–9 dynamic effects of economic integration model 47–9 economic factors
  Chinese automotive and parts industries 217
  competitive advantage of bicycle enterprise clusters 159 economic globalization 111–12
economies of scale  see scale economies education
efficiency 53
Eighteenth Institute of China Electronic Technological Corporation 128
electronic information industry 9–11, 115–27
characteristics of industrial clusters 116–19 main problems of clusters 119–23 recommendations for development 123–7 electronics
  Malaysia  see Malaysia
  Vietnam 60, 61, 69, 91
embodied information 301
employees, number of 61 engineering colleges 262–4, 270–1 engineering graduates 259–60, 261–2 enterprise groups 163 enterprises’ competitive power 114
entrepreneurship, environment for 103, 105 European Union (EU)
avtomobile industry 138
Malaysia’s market share 230–2;
  comparison with China 234–5
existing industries 303–4, 305, 307, 308, 309, 314 exogenous industrial clusters 10, 117–18
export processing zones (EPZs) 1–2, 27
Vietnam 4, 28, 102, 103; role in facilitating cluster formation and development 95, 97–9
see also industrial parks; industrial zones exports
  bicycles from Tianjin 157–8
  Indian software industry 249–52;
    Bangalore 254–5
  Vietnam 34–6, 43; role of business associations 93–4 external economies 194–5 factories, number of in Japan 279–82 financial capital 154
financial organizations 8, 113
First International Exhibition of Bicycles, Assistance-Bicycles and Accessories of North China 158
flexible production 161
flowchart approach 14–15, 169–99
flowchart framework 180–1
Toyota’s cluster in Tianjin 181–96;
  anchor firms 187–8, 196–7;
  capacity-building 183–7, 196–7;
  industrial zones 182–3, 196–7;
  related firms 188–96, 196–7
value chain management 172–80
Ford 174
foreign direct investment (FDI) 1, 248
Malaysia 228–9; flow compared with China 233–4; recent flow into electronics industry 18, 226–7, 229–30
Shanghai area 218
Tianjin area 117–18; promotion 126–7
Vietnam 41–4; IPZs, IPs and EPZs 97–9; overview 95–7 foreign-funded enterprise clusters 164 fruit cluster 58–9
Index

Fujita, M. 56, 57
Fushida Bicycle Enterprise 157

garments 35, 60, 61, 70, 79, 84, 91, 92, 102
Gates, B. 238
General Motors (GM) 174
Geographic Information Systems (GIS) approach 59–92 cluster analysis 90–1
dataset 60–4
dot density maps 63, 64, 65–78
interpretation of maps 89–90 maps 63, 64
methodology for cluster mapping 64–5 northern and southern region sector maps 63, 64, 79–87 provincial codes for Vietnam 60–1, 105–7 seafood enterprises in Mekong Delta 88–90 Gini coefficients 18, 228, 229 global optimization 177–9 globalization 111–12
government support 1–2, 28, 29
Chinese automobile industry:
cultivating dynamic competitive advantage 149; cultivating industrial clusters 145–6
local government see local government Tianjin area 126–7; green battery industry 137; industrial parks 162–3
Vietnam 102–3, 104–5
graduate schools 305, 307, 309–11, 311–14, 314, 316–17 green battery industry 11, 127–37 complete types of products and rudimentary industrial chain 131–2 industrial construction 134–6 market prospects and development potential 132–4 R&D and high ability of production 127–31 recommendations for enterprises 136–7 recommendations for government 137 shortcomings and problems 134
growth 29
long-term 99–101
growth competitiveness index (GCI) 38–9
Hanoi 3, 56
Hanoi–Hai Phong corridor 75, 79–83
heavy industry 43, 65–75
Hewlett Packard (HP) 259, 260, 262, 267, 269 high-end software development 259 high-tech industry 161–2
see also information technology (IT) industry higher education institutions see education; research institutes; universities Hindustan Aeronautics 254
Ho Chi Minh City 43, 89
Ho Chi Minh City–Binh Duong–Dong Nai triangle 75, 84–7
Hollywood 54
Honda 218, 219
Hong Kong 118
Hotelling, H. 5, 45–6
HRD Taskforce 266
Hsinchu Park, Taiwan 54, 55
human capital 97, 154
human resource development (HRD) MSC in Malaysia 240–1
Okinawa prefecture 292, 294
Toyota’s cluster in Tianjin 186–7
human resources
regional economic environment 8, 113
Tianjin area 141
see also skilled labour IBM 174, 252, 256, 263, 267, 271
iceberg model 44, 45
imitation 165
in-firm training 268–9
income per capita 283, 284–5 growth rates 283, 286–7
incubator establishment programme 283–9, 296
incentives
investment incentives 98
MSC 237
tax incentives 184, 185, 292, 294
increasing returns to scale 44–5
Indian Institute of Information Technology (IIIT) 19, 263
Indian Institute of Science (IISc) 254, 263, 266, 269, 271, 316
Indian Institutes of Management (IIMs) 260, 261
Indian Institutes of Technology 262–3
Indian software industry 245
Bangalore see Bangalore software cluster locational distribution of top firms 253 rapid growth 249–53
Indian Space Research Organization 254
Indian Telephone Industries (ITI) 254 industrial advantage 123 industrial castle town 3, 27, 102 Industrial Cluster Plan of 2001 (Japan) 21, 279–90, 295–6 background 279–83
programmes 283–90
industrial clusters
categories 3, 27, 102
competition and cooperation 1–3 component factors 8, 112–14 evolution of regional industrial clusters 111–12 importance 53
and industrial growth 29
international evidence 52–6 minimal requirements for formation 290 perceived role 103–4
theories of formation 44–51
world-class 53–6
industrial districts/regions 5, 156
industrial parks (IPs) 3–4, 27
Tianjin 134–6, 162–3
Vietnam 28, 102, 103; role in facilitating cluster formation and development 95, 97–9
see also Economic Processing Zones; industry zones
industrial policy
China’s automobile industry 141–2; failure of industrial policy 208–9 local industrial policy of Shanghai 211–14 recommendations for Vietnam 99–105 industrial zones (IZs) 3–4, 27
China 1–2, 282–3
flowchart approach 169, 170, 180–1, 182–3, 196–8
Vietnam 28, 102, 103; role in facilitating cluster formation and development 95, 97–9 see also economic processing zones; industrial parks informal institutions 94–5 informal networks 301
information, theory of 200
Information and Communications Industry Promotion Zones 294 information and communications technology (ICT) see information technology (IT) industry information policy 304, 306, 308, 309, 315 information-processing 304, 307, 311–14, 315 information services 290–1
information technology (IT) clusters Bangalore see Bangalore software cluster local labour market as determinant of innovation and competitiveness 246–8 Okinawa prefecture 21–2, 279, 290–4, 295–6, 316–17
Vietnam 58
information technology-enabled services 260 information technology (IT) industry accumulation factors 302–4 accumulation in Japan see Japan characteristics 300–1 and innovation 301–2
information technology (IT) professionals career paths 268–9
demand for 257–62
labour mobility 267–8
supply of 262–7
information technology-related courses 264–6 Infosys 260, 262, 267, 271 infrastructure 2, 27
Malaysia’s investment in 237–41
physical infrastructure in Tianjin 183–5 infrastructure cont’d.
regional economic environment 8, 113
Vietnam 102–3; trade-related 36–8
innovation 53, 165
IT industry and 301–2
institutional framework 2, 28
Bangalore software cluster 270–1, 273
Tianjin area 121–2, 153–4
Vietnam 33, 102–3
institutional reform 185–6 Intel 252, 256
intellectual property regime 40
international procurement centres (IPCs) 227 international supply chain 139, 166–7 International Technology Park (ITP) 255 internet 299, 304, 307, 311–14, 315–16 intra-industry trade (IIT) index 236–7
investment
domestic in Malaysia 228–9 foreign see foreign direct investment (FDI)
investment incentives 98
Ishikawa, Y. 278
Itami, H. 290
Japan 96, 104
automobile industry 138, 187, 207;
manufacturers in China 218–19;
see also Toyota
FDI: in ASEAN countries 227; in Malaysia 226–7 industrial cluster planning projects 289–90 local economy see local economy location of IT firms 22–4, 229–318;
basic model 308–9; data and estimation method 304–8;
education and proximity analysis 309–11; estimation result 308–16;
implications 314–16; industrial classifications of IT industry 311–14 Malaysia’s market share 230–2;
comparison with China 234–5
number of manufacturing factories 279–82 per capita income by prefecture 283, 284–5; growth rates 283, 286–7 JETRO study 27–8, 102
Jigang Bicycle Company 157 job opportunities for young people 292, 293 joint ventures 62, 63–4 Karnataka state
local government 255, 270–1
supply of IT professionals 263–4, 265, 266
keiretsu 170, 180, 188, 190–1, 192
Kelin Bicycle Company 157
Kelly, T. 302
key firms 16, 206–7
Kinukawa, M. 302, 304
knowledge clusters 39–41
knowledge-intensive industries 161–2
see also information technology (IT) industry knowledge network, lack of 123 knowledge spillovers 5, 47, 52, 245, 246–7, 248 Korea 104, 207
Krugman, P. 5, 46, 47–9
Kuchiki, A. 169–70, 172
Kyoto prefecture 282
labour costs 99–100
software 250, 251
labour-intensive industrial clusters 166
see also bicycle enterprise cluster;
garments
labour market intermediaries 271 labour markets 19–20
local see local labour markets thick for specialized skills 5, 47, 52–3
labour mobility 20, 29–30, 247, 267–8
labour turnover 268
language skills 260, 269
large core enterprises 160–1 Las Vegas 54
lead-acid batteries 132, 134
leading enterprises 156–7, 160–1 learnability 260
Li-ion batteries 129, 131, 136
output 133–4, 135
light manufacturing 43–4, 65–75
linkages, backward and forward 5, 47, 52–3
local economy 21–2, 278–98
Industrial Cluster Plan of 2001 21, 279–90, 295–6 lessons from policies of central and local governments 295–6 Okinawa prefecture 21–2, 279, 290–4, 295–6
local government
Bangalore 255, 270–1
Chinese automotive and parts industries 208; Shanghai 211–14, 217–18
Okinawa prefecture 21–2, 290–4, 295–6
local labour markets
Bangalore software cluster 19–20, 257–71, 272–3; changing nature of 257–70; institutional arrangements for skills development 270–1 as determinant of innovation and competitiveness of IT clusters 246–8 local product districts 3, 27, 102 local production network 10, 118–19 bicycle enterprises 151–2
not embedded 122
localized R&D system 145
location advantage 124, 152–3 location quotient (LQ) 116–17 London 56
financial services cluster 54, 55
long-term growth 99–101
low cost advantage 124
Macao 118
macroeconomic environment 8, 113 Mahathir, M. 237, 238
maintenance-free lead-acid battery 132 Malaysia 17–19, 105, 225–43 comparison with China 233–7; flow of FDI 233–4; trade analysis 234–7 formation of electronics industrial agglomeration 226–9; geographical dispersion 227–9; importance of electronics industry 226; international context 226–7 international competitiveness of electronics agglomeration 229–33; recent flow of FDI 229–30; trade analysis 230–3 Multimedia Super Corridor 105, 237–41, 316 managerial skills 260
manufactured goods, expenditure on 48–9 manufacturing 65–75
market 165–6
bicycle enterprise clusters 153
prospects for green batteries 132–4 market integration 126
market network 166–7
market shares analysis for Malaysia 230–2
comparison with China 234–5
Marshall, A. 5, 44, 47
Matsushima, S. 278
Mekong Delta 88–90, 102
mergers and acquisitions 173, 174
Microsoft 262, 263
Windows XP 40–1
Ministry of Aircraft and Spacecraft (MAS) group (China) 215, 216
Ministry of Land, Infrastructure and Transport (Japan) 303, 304
Ministry of Machinery Industry (MMI) (China) 16, 209, 215–16, 216 Mitsui Bank 174
mobility of labour 20, 29–30, 247, 267–8 modularity 191, 194–5
motorcycles 60, 61, 71, 91
Motorola 118, 124, 164, 259, 267, 269
Multimedia Development Corporation 239
Multimedia Super Corridor (MSC) 105, 237–41, 316 critiques of the project 237–8 economic impact 238, 239 promising signs 238–41
Multimedia University 240, 316 multinational corporations (MNCs) and Bangalore software cluster 252, 254, 256; demand for IT professionals 259–60 FDI see foreign direct investment regional optimization 177–9 multinational corporations (MNCs) cont’d.

Tianjin: as centre of interrelated industrial cooperation system 164; electronic information clusters 117–18, 119, 126–7; promotion of competition among 124

Municipal Automotive Small Group (MASG) 213–14, 218

National Association of Software and Service Companies (NASSCOM) (India) 255–6 national dot density maps 63, 64, 65–78

network formation programme 283–9, 295

Network Solutions 269

networks
informal 301
large core enterprises plus leading enterprises plus 160–1 leading enterprises plus 156–7 new businesses 295, 296
new economic geography 5, 46, 47–9, 200 new plants, conditions sufficient for building at a cluster 191–5 Ni-MH batteries 128–9, 131–2, 136
output 133–4, 135
Nissan 174, 218
Nomura industrial zone 99

Okinawa prefecture 21–2, 279, 290–4, 295–6, 316–17
current situation of ICT cluster 290–1 local government policies 291–4; development of ICT cluster 292, 293; human resource development 292, 294; job opportunities for young people 292, 293; reduction of telecommunication costs 291–3; tax incentives 292, 294

oligopoly 138, 140, 142–3, 147 on-site assignments abroad 267 organizational structure 159–60, 161 outsourcing 173, 174
ownership type 31–3, 61–4

paper 60, 61, 72, 80, 91, 92

Philippines 96
Phoenix 210
Phu Quoc Island 89, 90, 102
physical infrastructure 183–5 platform for regional economic development 114–15 Plaza Accords 278, 279
policy advantage 124
political decentralization 208 ‘political struggle’ 204 politics 217
population density 303, 305, 307, 308, 309, 314 Porter, M. 6, 7, 46, 49–51, 52, 111, 112, 169, 176–7 priorities, rational structure of 165–6 private computer training institutes 264–6
private sector
Tianjin area 150, 154
Vietnam; 4–5, 31–3, 34, 61–3, 101;
role in technological catch-up 104–5 product chain industrial clusters 10, 119, 120, 123 product positioning 141–2 production
capacity for green batteries 133–4, 136
Chinese automotive and parts industries 204, 205, 207; failure of industrial policy 208–9; small scale 207–8 flexible 161
production functions 45, 173
production licences 153–4 productivity 53, 99–101
programming engineers 260
proximity analysis 306, 307, 309–11, 314
public sector
Bangalore software cluster 254
Vietnam 31, 33, 34, 62, 63
Qinghua University 316 quantities of production 194–6

rational structure of priorities 165–6 RCA index for Malaysia 18, 232–3
comparison with China 18–19, 234, 235
recruitment 261–2
labour market intermediaries 271
region of studying type 159–60, 161 regional competitive power, three hierarchies of 114–15
regional economic development, platform for 114–15
regional economic environment 7–8, 112–14
regional innovation environment 149 regional innovation systems (RIS) 159–60, 161, 247
regional optimization 177–9
regional value chain network 14, 179–80 regionalization 97, 111–12
related firms 14, 171–2, 180–1, 196–8
Toyota’s cluster in Tianjin 188–96, 196–7; conditions sufficient for building a new plant at a cluster 191–5; cross-dock logistics 188–91; Denso 195–6 Renault 174
research and development (R&D) Japan’s Industrial Cluster Plan 283–9, 295 outsourcing to India 252; Bangalore 256 research resources 8, 112–13
Tianjin area: automobile industry 139, 145; green battery industry 127–31
Vietnam 39–40
research institutes 301–2, 316–17 restaurants 306, 308, 309, 315 retention strategies 262
rice 60, 61, 73, 91, 92 Ripley’s K-statistic 64
rooting of industrial clusters 10, 118–19
rural areas 165–6

Samsung 124, 164
Santana 210–11, 213–14
Sanyo Motor Company 131
Saxenian, A.L. 93
scale economies 48–9, 200
flowchart approach 170, 171, 194–6
science departments of universities/graduate schools 305, 307, 309–11, 311–14, 314–15, 316 science parks 316–17
Scotland 54
seafood 60, 61, 74, 81, 85, 91, 92
exports 35
Mekong Delta 88–90, 102
Second Automotive Works (SAW) 204–5, 206
self-strengthening mechanisms 124–5 Shanghai area 17, 209–16, 219
historical background to automobile industry 209–10 local industrial policy 211–14
localization of Santana and parts industry 210–11, 212 production structure 216 success factors 217–18
supply chain network: expansion nationwide 215–16; formation 214–15
Shanghai Automobile Assembly Plant 204, 205, 206, 210
Shanghai Automobile Group 141–2
Shanghai Automotive Electric Motor Factory 210
Shanghai Automotive Industry Company (SAIC) 210, 211–13, 214–15, 216
Shanghai Automotive Transmission Shaft Factory 210
Shanghai Car Plant (SCP) 210
Shanghai Localization Office (SLO) 213, 214, 217
Shanghai Municipality Trans-bureau Localization Cooperation Office (SMTLCO) 214, 218 Shanghai Santana Commonwealth 213–14
Shanghai Volkswagen (SVW) 210–11, 215
Silicon Valley 53–4, 237, 238, 245–6, 267
Simputer 270
Singapore 54–5, 96
single-core industrial clusters 10, 118, 124 fragility and instability of 122–3 skilled labour 247
Bangalore software cluster 19–20, 257–71, 272–3
FDI in Vietnam and 97
location of IT firms in Japan 300, 302, 303, 305–6; see also education skilled labour  cont’d.
- mobility 20, 29–30, 247, 267–8
- MSC and job opportunities 240–1
- skills development 268–9
- institutional arrangements for 270–1
- small and medium-sized enterprises
  - Bangalore software cluster 256
  - Japan 283, 288, 289
  - Tianjin 185; automobile industry 147–8; bicycle enterprise cluster 149–63
  - Vietnam 31, 32–3
  - Soc Trang 89
- social amenities 23, 302, 304, 306, 308, 309, 315
- social capital 53, 93, 154
- Society for Innovation and Development 269–70
- software
  - Bangalore see Bangalore software cluster
dev259, 290–1
  - Vietnam 58, 60, 61, 75, 91
  - see also information technology (IT) industry
- software business 304, 307, 311–14, 315
- Software Technology Parks of India (STPI) 254, 255
- sogoshosa 180
- solar cells 135, 136
- Sony 174, 252, 259
- space 45–6
- spatial economics 5, 46, 47–9, 200
- spatial regression analysis 64
- special schools 305, 307, 309–11, 314
- specialization rate of value added 117
- specialized skills, thick markets for 5, 47, 52–3
- spin-offs 20, 269–70
- state see government support; local government
- state-owned enterprises (SOEs)
  - speeding up reform of in Tianjin 125–6
  - Vietnam 31, 33, 34, 62, 63
- steel 60, 61, 76, 82, 86, 91, 102
- Stern, S. 52
- subsidies 292, 293, 294
- sugar 60, 61, 77, 91
- Sumitomo Bank 174
- Sun Microsystems 252, 256
- supply chain see value chain/supply chain
- supply of IT professionals 262–7
- Sweden 54
- Switzerland 54, 56

Takeuchi, S. 295
- Tata Consultancy Services (TCS) 253, 262, 267, 268, 269
- tax incentives
  - Okinawa prefecture 292, 294
  - TEDA 184, 185
- technological dependence 121
- technological resources 8, 112–13
- technology
  - bicycle enterprise cluster 153
dev20, 269–70
  - development of electronic information cluster 126
- technology-intensive industries 165
  - see also automobile industry; electronics; information technology (IT) industry
dev165
- technology overflow 123
- telecommunications
  - cost reduction in Okinawa prefecture 291–3
  - Vietnam 36, 37
  - Texas Instruments (TI) 252, 254
dev60, 61, 78, 83, 87, 91, 92, 102
textiles 60, 61, 78, 83, 87, 91, 92, 102
- thermoelectric cooling modules 132
- Thisse, J.-F. 57
- ‘three big, three small’ plan 16, 206
- ‘three big, three small, two mini’ plan 16, 206
- Tianjin area 7–14, 111–68
  - automobile industrial clusters 11–12, 137–49; background to development 138–41; construction direction 146–9; development characteristics 141–6
  - bicycle enterprise clusters 12–13, 149–63; competitive advantage 157–60; development and structural features 156–7; recommendations 161–3; structure of clusters 160–1; Wangqingtuo Town 150–5 cultivating new type local industrial clusters 13–14, 163–7 development and spread of industrial clusters 7–9 electronic information industry 9–11, 115–27; characteristics of clusters 116–19; future development of clusters 123–7; main problems of clusters 119–23 green battery industry 11, 127–37; basic situation 127–34; industrial construction 134–6; recommendations 136–7 industrial clusters in 9–13, 115
industrial zones 181, 182–3 Toyota’s cluster see Toyota Tianjin Automobile Group 142, 143, 144, 145, 148, 187, 188
Tianjin Economic and Technological Development Area (TEDA) 182–6
Tianjin Jinneng Battery Technological Company 131
Tianjin Lantian Electric Source Company 130
Tianjin Lantian High-tech Power Sources Joint-stock Company 130
Tianjin Lantian Power Sources Company 130, 131, 132, 133
Tianjin Lantian Sanyo Energy Company 130–1, 133–4
Tianjin Lishen Battery Joint-stock Company 129–30, 131, 133
Tianjin Motorola Company 167
Tianjin New High-Tech Industrial Park 134–6
Tianjin Peace Bay Power Company 128–9, 131–2, 133
Tianjin Tingyi International Food Company 167
Tianjin Toyota Motor Company 145, 167, 187–8
Toffler, A. 238
Tokyo prefecture 282
Toyota 131, 200, 201
in China 201, 218, 219
Toyota China Technology Centre 187
Toyotatsusho Corporation 182, 188 trade 51
inner trade characteristics of automobile industry 139
intra-industry trade (IIT) index 236–7 trade analysis for Malaysia 230–3; comparison with China 234–7 Vietnam 34–6; trade-related infrastructure 36–8 traditional industrial clusters 165–6 traditional industry 161–2 training, in-firm 268–9 Transparency International 103 transportation costs 45–6, 48–9, 57, 200
flowchart approach 194–5
IT industry 301
turnover 61
tyre production projects 208
United States (USA)
automobile industry 138
links with Bangalore software cluster 267 Malaysia’s market share 230–2; comparison with China 234–5 trade with Vietnam 93, 96; catfish 94 universities 301–2, 316–17 India 262–3, 270–1
location of IT firms in Japan 305, 307, 309–14, 314–15
urban areas 165–6
see also cities
urban processing clusters 3, 27, 102 value chain/supply chain 49–51, 172–4 international 139, 166–7
Shanghai automobile industry 214–16; expansion nationwide 215–16; formation 214–15; structure 216
Tianjin area: dynamic competitive advantage 148–9; SMEs 147–8; two interrelated systems for automobile industry 146–7 Vietnam’s position in regional and global value chain 96–7 value chain management (VCM) 172–80
competitive advantage 174–7
global optimization and regional optimization of MNCs 177–9 optimal size of a region of 179–80
Venables, A. 5, 46, 47–9
Vietnam 3–7, 27–108
economic reforms necessary 7, 100 Enterprise Law 2000 6, 32, 96, 103 environment for business 4–5, 30–44;
competitiveness 4–5, 36–9;
investment 41–4, 95–7;
knowledge clusters 39–41; macro economy 30–4; trade 34–6 evidence for existence of clusters 6, 56–92; GIS approach 59–92; VNCI project 57–9
flowchart approach 197–8
industrial policy recommendations 99–105; competitiveness,
productivity and long-term growth 99–101; revisiting conclusions from JETRO study 102–5
JETRO study of 2002 27–8, 102 literature review 5–6, 44–51 provinces, districts and communes 65 provincial codes 60–1, 105–7 role of business associations in facilitating cluster formation and development 92–5
role of IZs and EPZs in facilitating cluster formation and
development 95–9
Vietnam Business Forum 7, 100

Vietnam Chamber of Commerce and Industry (VCCI) 33, 92
Vietnam Competitiveness Initiative
(VNCI) project 57–9
Volkswagen 210

Wangqingtu Town bicycle enterprise clusters 150–5
formation and characteristics 150–2 formation factors and development mechanisms 152–4
shortcomings and problems 155
Windows XP 40–1
Wipro 253, 254, 260, 261, 262, 268 world-class clusters 53–6
world-class companies 237, 238, 239
World Bank Poverty Reduction Support
Credit (PRSC) 34
World Economic Forum 38–9, 103–4 Xiali cars 143–4, 145
young people, job opportunities for 292, 293
Yukawa, K. 302, 304
Zhongguancun IT cluster, China 316
Zhonghuan Semiconductor Company 125