Index

A
Allodynia, 139
Amalgam, 98
American Society of Anesthesiologists (ASA), 34–35
Anastomoses, 121–122
Anesthesia, 138
Antiresorptive-induced osteonecrosis of the jaw (ARONJ), 155 diagnostic criteria, 159–160
patients clinical care conservative and surgical treatment, 160–161 histological analysis, bone margins, 162 lower right maxillectomy, 161, 162 ND:YAG laser stimulation, 163 resection margin, 162
sCTX levels, 163
patients follow-up, 163
Apex resection
abrasion, 90
apicoectomy, 90
bevel, 90–92
canal aberrations and anomalies, 90
crown-to-root ratio, 92
missed canals and anatomy, 93, 97
ARONJ. See Antiresorptive-induced osteonecrosis of the jaw (ARONJ) Attached gingiva, 62, 73–74
Axonotmesis, 138
diagnostic criteria, 159–160
epidemiology, 155–156
etiopathology, 157
management, 158–159
ONJ staging system, 154–155 patients clinical care (see Antiresorptive-induced osteonecrosis of the jaw (ARONJ)) prevention, 158
risk factors, 156–157
Bleeding
acquired coagulation abnormalities heparin, 120–121
warfarin, 120
anatomical considerations, 121
ecchymosis, 118
flap design, 123
hematoma, 118
hemostasis, 119
inherited coagulation disorders
hemophilia, 120
VWD, 119–120
local anesthesia, 122–123
local considerations, 121 mandible, 121–122
maxilla, 122
osteotomy and root-end management, 123–124
platelet disorders, 119 technical and therapeutic control cotton pellets, 125–126
electrocauterization, 124
ligation, 124
topical hemostatic agents, 124–125
Bone destruction, 30
Bone grafts, 181–182
Bone mineral density (BMD), 84
Bone wax, 124
BRONJ. See Bisphosphonate-related osteonecrosis of the jaw (BRONJ) Bisphosphonate-related osteonecrosis of the jaw (BRONJ) characteristics, 154 clinical presentation and staging, 157, 158

cellulitis, 21
Central giant cell granuloma (CGCG), 12–13
Chronic hyperplastic sinusitis (CHS), 104

I. Tsesis (ed.), Complications in Endodontic Surgery, DOI 10.1007/978-3-642-54218-3, © Springer-Verlag Berlin Heidelberg 2014
Chronic rhinosinusitis (CRS), 104 Clinical reasoning process, Zebra hunt anatomical structures and variations, 9–10 bone tumors and diseases, 12–13 diagnosis error, 7
non-endodontic-related pathology, 14 odontogenic cysts, 10–11 odontogenic tumors, 11–12 PAGs/PACs, 9
periapical inflammatory lesion, 14 traumatic bone cyst, 13–14
VRF, 8–9
Cone beam computed tomography (CBCT), 26, 77, 108, 140–141, 160
Cotton pellets, 125–126

E
EBA. See Ethoxybenzoic acid (EBA)
Ecchymosis, 118
Electrocauterization, 124
Endodontic microsurgery (EMS) success rates, 40, 45
technical differences and implications, 44
Endodontic surgery outcomes assessment
bone loss, 41
complete healing, 40, 42 incomplete healing, 40, 41 postoperative diagnoses, 41–42 success/failure, 40 survival/nonsurvival, 40 uncertain healing, 40, 41 unsatisfactory healing, 40, 42 vs. nonsurgical endodontic treatment, 39 posttreatment etiology extraradicular etiologies, 43 infradicular infection, 42–43 technical differences and implications, 44
variations high-power magnification affect, 46 long-term success rates, 45 periodontal involvement, 47 resurgery, 45–46
root-end filling materials, 46–47
TES vs. EMS, 40, 45
wound healing, 43–44
Esthetic complications
microsurgical techniques hand support and control, 75–76 instrument grips, 76 principles, 75
surgical magnification, 75 periodontal considerations
attached gingiva, 73–74
black triangle, maxillary central incisors, 74 col, 74
ever epithelial and connective tissues, 73 papilla filled embrasure, 74 periodontal parameters, 74 pretreatment presentation, 75 tissue management
blunt retractors, 79
CBCT, 77
compromised blood supply, 78
flap design, 76–77
flap elevation, 78–79
gingival biotype, 78
intrasulcular releasing incisions, 77 mucoperiosteal flaps, 78 periapical radiographs, 77 vertical releasing incisions, 77–78
Ethoxybenzoic acid (EBA), 45–47 Evidence-based approach bacteria prevention, 1
biopsy, 1
operative microscope (OM), 2 patient-related complications, 2, 3 practitioner-related complications, 2–3 prevention, identification, and management, 3–5 procedural error, 2 root canal system, 1 traditional surgical endodontic treatment, 2

F
Ferric sulfate, 124–125
Fibro-osseous lesions, 13
Flap, 61
Flap-related complications etiology and risk factors attachment loss, 63
flap necrosis, 64
flap tearing, 64
gingival biotype effects, 65–66 gingival recession, 63–64 healing by first intention, 63 healing by second intention, 63 periodontal diseases, 64–65 scar, 63, 64
soft tissue dehiscence, 64 normal periodontal structure gingiva, 62–63
oral mucosa, 62
supracrestal connective tissue attachment, 63
prevention and management
flap design, 67
flap elevation general precautions, 68 flap repositioning, 69
flap suture, 69–70
intra-sulcular flap, 67
papilla preservation techniques, 68, 69
semilunar flap, 68
submarginal flap, 67, 68
surgical incision, 66–67
Focal cemento-osseous dysplasia (FCOD), 13
Free gingiva, 62
G
General dental practitioner (GDP). See Medicolegal consideration, GDP Gingival papilla, 63
Gingival sulcus, 63
Glass-ionomer cements, 98
Guided tissue regeneration (GTR) barrier membranes basement membrane, 179
    blood clot and granulation tissue formation, 180 buccal and lingual bone plates, 180 contamination, 181
    epithelial cells, 179
    fibroblasts, 179–180
    osteoblasts, 180
    surgical bone crypt, 179
    bone grafts, 181–182
    clinical conditions, 182 defect and bone wound healing, 178–179 open-flap debridement, 183 periodontal regenerative therapy, 177–178
    prevention and management, 183
    retreatment success, 183–185 scar tissue, 183
epinephrine, 122
reactive hyperemia, 122–123 vasoconstrictor, 122 definition of anesthesia, 53 regional complications
  bleeding and hematoma, 57
  inflammation, 57
  insufficient anesthesia, 57, 58
  middle ear problems, 56
  needle breakage, 57–58
  nerve injury, 56–57
  ophthalmic manifestations, 56
  postoperative soft-tissue injury, 58–59
  trismus, 55–56
systemic complications
  reasons for, 54
  systemic and allergic reactions, 54
  toxicity, 55
  vasoconstrictors, 54, 55

H
Haversian canals, 123
Hematoma, 57
Hemophilia, 120
Hemorrhage. See Bleeding
Hemostasis, 174
Heparin, 120–121
Hyperalgesia, 139
Hyperesthesia, 139
Hypoalgesia, 139

I
Infectious post-surgical inflammation (IPSI), 130 Inherited coagulation disorders
  hemophilia, 120
  VWD, 119–120
Intermediate restorative material (IRM), 47
Intra-sulcular flap, 67
Ischemic osteonecrosis, 153

K
Keratocystic odontogenic tumor (KCOT), 11, 12

L
Lateral periodontal cyst (LPC), 10
Lateral radicular cyst (LRC), 9 Local anesthesia (LA)
  bleeding

M
Mandibular anesthesia, 56
Mandibular lingual salivary gland depression, 10
Maxillary local anesthesia, 56 Maxillary sinus anatomy and physiology alveolar nerves, 103
    ciliated cells, 102
    dimensions, 101
    non-ciliated cells, 102 ostium, 102, 103
    paranasal sinus function, 104
    Schneiderian membrane, 102
    serous and mucinous glands, 102 sinus cavity, 101–102
    sphenopalatine nerve, 103
  management
    bacteria displacement, 109 membrane perforation, 108–109 meticulous technique, 109 multipurpose magnification device, 113–114
    P-PRP, 109, 113
    Schneiderian membrane, 109
    Spongostan, 109
    surgical procedure, 109–113 morphological features, upper maxillary roots bacterial and fungal species, 104 clinical examination, 106
    CRS with NP, 104
    EAS, 106
    microorganisms, 104
    mucociliary cleansing system, 105 nasal discharge, 106
    ostium obstruction, 105 periapical periodontitis, 104, 105 signs and symptoms, 106 sinusitis classification, 105–106 therapeutic decision making, 106–107
Maxillary sinus (cont.)
OAC, 107
radiographic classification, 107
RMS, 108
root-end management, 108
3D radiographic techniques, 107–108 Medicolegal consideration, GDP apical box preparation, 174–175 complained tooth case studies, 172–174
  patient-doctor communication, 171 general endodontics, 170–171 Israel and Italy, 168
malpractice claim areas, 170
  frequency, 170
  hypotheses, 169–170
malpractice data, 167, 168 Nordic model complaint system, 168–169 insurance system, 169
Turkey and Iran, 168
USA, 168
Mineral trioxide aggregate (MTA), 46–47, 98
Mucogingival junction, 62–63

N
Nasal polyposis (NP), 104
National dental complaint board (NDCB), 169
Nerve injury
classification, 138–139 diagnosis algorithm, 144, 145
  clinical evaluation methods, 146, 147 clinical sensory testing, 146 complementary objective sensory tests, 146 mechanocceptive testing, 146 neurosensory impairment, 144, 146 nociceptive testing, 146 persistent pain, 144
  trigeminal evoked potentials (TEP) test, 146 etiology, 139
intraoperative preventive measures, 143–144
management, 148–149
medicolegal aspects, 139 postoperative preventive measures, 144 preoperative preventive measures altered sensation, 140
  IAN, 141, 142
  mental foramen (MF), 142 PA radiography, 140
  practitioners skills, 142–143
  risk factors, 140–141
Neuropaxia, 138
Neurotmesis, 138
Neurotoxicity, 56
Noninfectious postsurgical inflammation (NIPSI), 130
Nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAIDs), 132

O
Operative microscope (OM), 2
Oroantral communication (OAC), 107, 108
Osteomyelitis, 157
Osteonecrosis, 157
Osteoradionecrosis, 154

P Pain and swelling
definitions and sequel, 130 IPSI, 130
management
  analgesics, 132–133
  cryotherapy, 133
  low-power laser, 133
  wound closure and drains, 133–134 NIPSI, 130
prevention
  corticosteroids, 132
  NSAIDs, 132
  oral dexamethasone, 132 PBI, 132
  pre-emptive analgesia, 131
risk factors
  local anesthesia, 131
  patient's age and gender, 131 personal habits, 131 root-end filling, 131
  surgical technique, 130–131 tissue damage, 129
Papilla-base incision (PBI), 132
Paresthesia, 138–139
Periapical abscess drain apical abscess, 21
  cellulitis, 21
  drainage
    through root canal, 22 through surgical incision, 22 ubi pus and ibi evacua, 21 osteoclasts, 21
  pulpal and periapical pathology, 20–21
Periapical cemental dysplasia (PCD), 13
Periapical curettage, 84, 86
Periapical cysts (PACs), 9, 30
Periapical granulomas (PAGs), 9
Periapical index (PAI), 25–26
Periapical osseous healing, 61
Periapical osteotomy adjacent teeth damage, 84, 85 conservative vs. large osteotomy, 82 lesion location, 82
  periapical wound healing, 81
  thermal osteonecrosis, drilling BMD, 84
    cooling, 83
    emphysema, 83–84
    heat-induced cortical bone necrosis, 83
    micro damage, 84
osteocytic degeneration, 83
ultrasonic osteotomy, 84
Periapical (PA) radiography, 140
Periapical wound healing, 81
Platelet disorders, 119
Pocket cysts, 30
Pre-emptive analgesia, 131
Pulp sensitivity testing, 9
Pure platelet-rich plasma (P-PRP), 109, 113
R Radiologic maxillary sinusitis (RMS), 108 Regional complications, local anesthesia bleeding and hematoma, 57
inflammation, 57
insufficient anesthesia, 57, 58
middle ear problems, 56
needle breakage, 57–58
nerve injury, 56–57
ophthalmic manifestations, 56
postoperative soft-tissue injury, 58–59
trismus, 55–56
Retrograde cavity preparation retrograde obturation
amalgam, 98
biocompatibility, 96–98 cavity wetting, 96
composite resin, 99
excessive bleeding, 96
glass-ionomer cements, 98
hydrophobic characteristics, 96 inadequate placement and compaction, 94–95 magnification devices, 95–96 MTA, 98
radiopaque sealing material, 96, 99 three-dimensional filling, 94, 96 ZOE cements, 98
tridimensional filling and sealing Black class-I cavity, 93 inadequate instrumentation/visualization, 94, 96 tip fracture, 94, 95
ultrasonic cavities, 94
ultrasonic diamond-coated tips preparation, 94
Root-end management
apex resection
abrasion, 90
apicectomy, 90
bevel, 90–92
canal aberrations and anomalies, 90
crown-to-root ratio, 92
missed canals and anatomy, 93, 97
retrograde cavity preparation (see Retrograde cavity preparation) Root-filled root canal treatment accessibility, 31–33
apical periodontitis, 27 bone destruction size, 30 failed treatment
clinical decisions, 27
prevalence, 26–27
vs. successful treatment, 25–26 future restorative requirements, 33 informed consent
about risks, 29
about treatment, 28–29
authorized, 30
components, 28
on costs, 29
and manipulation, 29–30 medical ethical debate, 28 verbal and non-verbal expressions, 28 medical considerations, 34–35 patient values, 27–28
permanent root filling, 24 previous treatment quality, 31 special equipment availability, 33–34 surgical/nonsurgical retreatment, 30 Root-filled tooth palpation pain, 20
vertical fracture, 20
S Semilunar flap, 68
Serum C-terminal telopeptide (sCTX) levels, 163
Soft tissue complications. See Flap-related complications Special attention bleeding risk, 35–36
immune system deficiencies, 36 infection spreading risk, 35 Stafne bone defect, 10
Submarginal flap, 67, 68
Surgical site infection, 129 definition, 134
prevention and management, 135
risk factors, 134
Sympathomimetic-amine vasoconstrictors, 125
Systemic complications, local anesthesia reasons for, 54
systemic and allergic reactions, 54
toxicity, 55
vasoconstrictors, 54, 55
T
TES. See Traditional endodontic surgery (TES)
Thermal osteonecrosis, drilling
BMD, 84
cooling, 83
emphysema, 83–84
heat-induced cortical bone necrosis, 83
micro damage, 84
osteocytic degeneration, 83
ultrasonic osteotomy, 84
Traditional endodontic surgery (TES)
  success rates, 40, 45
  technical differences and implications, 44
Trismus, 55–56
True cysts, 30

U
Ultrasonic osteotomy, 84
Untreated root canal treatment continuous weeping, 22–23 orthograde access, 23–24

V
Volkmann's canals, 123
Von Willebrand disease (VWD), 119–120

W
Warfarin, 120

Z
Zinc oxide-eugenol (ZOE) cements, 98