

Russian Women and their Organizations

Also by Rebecca Kay

NO MORE HEROINES? Russia, Women and the Market
(with Sue Bridger and Kathryn Pinnick)

Russian Women and their Organizations

Gender, Discrimination and Grassroots
Women's Organizations, 1991–96

Rebecca Kay

Institute of Central and East European Studies

University of Glasgow

First published in Great Britain 2000 by
MACMILLAN PRESS LTD
Houndmills, Basingstoke, Hampshire RG21 6XS and London
Companies and representatives throughout the world

A catalogue record for this book is available from the British Library.

ISBN 978-1-349-41501-4 ISBN 978-0-333-97775-0 (eBook)
DOI 10.1057/9780333977750

First published in the United States of America 2000 by

ST. MARTIN'S PRESS, INC.,
Scholarly and Reference Division,
175 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10010

ISBN 978-0-312-22865-1

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Kay, Rebecca, 1971–

Russian women and their organizations : gender, discrimination and grassroots women's organizations, 1991–96 / Rebecca Kay.
p. cm.

Includes bibliographical references and index.

ISBN 978-0-312-22865-1 (cloth)

1. Women—Russia (Federation)—Societies and clubs. 2. Sex discrimination against women—Russia (Federation) 3. Women—Social conditions. I. Title.

HQ1975.K39 1999

305.4'06'047—dc21

99-41415

CIP

© Rebecca Kay 2000

Softcover reprint of the hardcover 1st edition 2000 978-0-333-76546-3

All rights reserved. No reproduction, copy or transmission of this publication may be made without written permission.

No paragraph of this publication may be reproduced, copied or transmitted save with written permission or in accordance with the provisions of the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988, or under the terms of any licence permitting limited copying issued by the Copyright Licensing Agency, 90 Tottenham Court Road, London W1P 0LP.

Any person who does any unauthorized act in relation to this publication may be liable to criminal prosecution and civil claims for damages.

The author has asserted her right to be identified as the author of this work in accordance with the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988.

This book is printed on paper suitable for recycling and made from fully managed and sustained forest sources.

10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1
09 08 07 06 05 04 03 02 01 00

For Sue

This page intentionally left blank

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction	1
Part I The Gender Climate in Post-Soviet Russia
1 Soviet and Post-Soviet Gender Climates	11
2 No Place for a Woman: Paid Employment, Political Representation and Public Life	34
3 Born to be Mothers? Motherhood as Every Woman's 'Natural Calling'	65
4 Equals or Opposites? Women's Attitudes to Gender	83
Part II Organized Responses and Women's Activism
5 Challenging Inequality: Legislative Approaches versus Women's Activism	109
6 Grassroots Women's Organizations: Agents of Change or a Means of Survival?	120
7 Public Faces: Recruitment Strategies, Public Actions and Use of the Media	142
8 Sisterhood or Suspicion? Relations between Russian Women's Organizations	163
9 Pot of Gold or Poisoned Chalice? The Impact of Western Support	187
10 Conclusions: Grassroots Women's Organizations and the Gender Climate	210
Appendix A: The Organizations of the Sample	219
Appendix B: The Women of the Sample	226

Appendix C: Conferences, Seminars and Events Attended during Fieldwork	236
Notes	238
Bibliography	252
Index	259

Acknowledgements

The period of fieldwork, during which the primary research for this book was carried out, was funded by a scholarship of the Harold Hyam Wingate Foundation. I am also grateful to the Department of Modern Languages at the University of Bradford for financial and technical support during research, analysis and writing. In Russia itself I could not have organized my fieldwork without the support of Marina Malysheva and Larisa Lukianova of the Moscow Centre for Gender Studies who offered me invaluable assistance in obtaining my visa and later registering it, with some difficulty.

My most heartfelt thanks must, of course, go to all the grassroots women's organizations with whom I worked during the period of fieldwork. The leaders and members of these organizations were generous with both their time and hospitality, agreeing not only to be interviewed at length and to provide much needed information about interesting contacts and events, but frequently also offering me their friendship and a warm welcome in their homes. These women's strength and vitality and their determination to make a difference against all the odds made a lasting impression on me and provided the necessary inspiration to see me through the trials and tribulations of fieldwork and writing.

Amongst all the friends and relatives who have offered me support and understanding, I would especially like to thank Laima and Tanya for their unstinting friendship, Zoya, Nadya and Andrei for finding me a place to live and for their ability to make me laugh when it seemed impossible, and the women of the Slavinskaia family for their help in organizing the last frantic weeks of research. I must also thank my parents for putting up with me in the final stages of writing and especially my mother, Barbara, for her constant love and understanding and for her last-minute proof reading. Finally my greatest debt of thanks must certainly go to my supervisor, Sue Bridger, who has become a dear friend and whose advice and support has been invaluable and has gone way beyond the call of duty. I could never have done it without you.

REBECCA KAY