

ELECTIONS AND DEMOCRATIZATION
IN THE MIDDLE EAST

Elections, Voting, Technology

The series Elections, Voting, Technology examines the relationships between people, electoral processes and technologies, and democracy. Elections are a fundamental aspect of a free and democratic society and, at their core, they involve a citizenry making selections for who will represent them. This series examines the ways in which citizens select their candidates—the voting technologies used, the rules of the game that govern the process—and considers how changes in processes and technologies affect the voter and the democratic process.

Thad Hall is an associate professor of political science at the University of Utah and a research affiliate with the Caltech/MIT Voting Technology Project. He is the coauthor of several books on elections and voting, including Point, Click, and Vote: The Future of Internet Voting and Electronic Elections: The Perils and Promise of Digital Democracy, and coeditor of the book Election Fraud.
