

Palgrave Entertainment Industries

Series Editors

Christy Collis

Queensland University of Technology
Australia

Stephen Harrington

Queensland University of Technology
Australia

Alan McKee

University of Technology Sydney
Australia

Palgrave Entertainment Industries is the first series to take an empirical multidisciplinary approach to the understanding of entertainment—defined as “audience-centred culture”. The series understands the work of culture by studying production (including distribution), texts and consumption practices. While maintaining a sophisticated and reflective intellectual stance, Palgrave Entertainment Industries leaves behind anti-empirical “mass-culture” models of commercial culture in order to take an evidence-based approach to entertainment as a cultural system.

Entertainment has been an integral component of everyday lives throughout modernity, remaining remarkably consistent in its textual features for over two hundred years. It is the form of most culture consumed by the majority of citizens of Western countries. The entertainment industries are diverse, encompassing sectors including film, radio and sports, music, television, casinos and live events/festivals, and were estimated to be worth more than US$2.2 trillion in 2012, in addition to employing millions of people around the world.

This innovative new series will address the lack of academic attention devoted to entertainment by examining the ways that entertainment as a product, as an industry and as an activity can be understood in our society.

Series advisory board:

Jonathan Gray, University of Wisconsin, Madison, USA, Henry Jenkins III, USC Annenberg School for Communication and the USC School of Cinematic Arts, USA, Shay Sayre, California State University, Fullerton, USA, and Liesbet van Zoonen, Loughborough University, UK.

More information about this series at <http://www.springer.com/series/14706>

Stephen Harrington
Editor

Entertainment Values

How do we Assess Entertainment and Why does it Matter?

palgrave
macmillan

Editor

Stephen Harrington
Creative Industries Faculty
Queensland University of Technology
Brisbane, Australia

Palgrave Entertainment Industries
ISBN 978-1-137-47289-2
DOI 10.1057/978-1-137-47290-8

ISBN 978-1-137-47290-8 (eBook)

Library of Congress Control Number: 2017948993

© The Editor(s) (if applicable) and The Author(s) 2017

The author(s) has/have asserted their right(s) to be identified as the author(s) of this work in accordance with the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988.

This work is subject to copyright. All rights are solely and exclusively licensed by the Publisher, whether the whole or part of the material is concerned, specifically the rights of translation, reprinting, reuse of illustrations, recitation, broadcasting, reproduction on microfilms or in any other physical way, and transmission or information storage and retrieval, electronic adaptation, computer software, or by similar or dissimilar methodology now known or hereafter developed.

The use of general descriptive names, registered names, trademarks, service marks, etc. in this publication does not imply, even in the absence of a specific statement, that such names are exempt from the relevant protective laws and regulations and therefore free for general use.

The publisher, the authors and the editors are safe to assume that the advice and information in this book are believed to be true and accurate at the date of publication. Neither the publisher nor the authors or the editors give a warranty, express or implied, with respect to the material contained herein or for any errors or omissions that may have been made. The publisher remains neutral with regard to jurisdictional claims in published maps and institutional affiliations.

Cover illustration: johnb / Stockimo / Alamy Stock Photo

Printed on acid-free paper

This Palgrave Macmillan imprint is published by Springer Nature

The registered company is Macmillan Publishers Ltd.

The registered company address is: The Campus, 4 Crinan Street, London, N1 9XW, United Kingdom

To Typhoon Kalmaegi: You were short lived, but your impact was profound.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This book would not have been possible without the efforts of a large number of people, most of whom I will fail to mention by name in what follows.

Firstly, to Felicity Plester and her team at Palgrave, I thank you not only for believing in the merits of this book but also for believing that an entire series devoted to Entertainment would be worthwhile. Special thanks, too, to Sophie Auld, who remained patient and incredibly helpful.

My dear colleagues and friends Alan McKee and Christy Collis, thank you for your contributions and intellectual leadership. It is an honour working with you both, and I hope that this book does justice to continue to forge ahead the discipline that you have both so tirelessly fought to establish.

To all those who contributed to this book, I am sincerely grateful and honoured to have worked with you all. I may not have been the most punctual or organised editor, but I am extremely proud of the end result. Your hard work made this happen.

Daniel Padua and Katherine Kirkwood, who helped me keep this project on track, or get it back on track, at various stages of the production process. You deserve a lot of credit for this.

And, once again, to Christy and the other members of my dear little flat family. Thank you for loving me . . . just as I am.

CONTENTS

How Can We Value Entertainment? And, Why Does It Matter?	1
Stephen Harrington
Valuing Entertainment	2
Why Entertainment?	3
This Book	6
Notes	9
References	9
What Is Entertainment? The Value of Industry Definitions	11
Christy Collis
Academic and Policy Definitions	12
Industry Definitions	14
Entertainment as Audience-Centred Culture	16
Entertainment as Commercial Culture	19
Conclusion	20
References	21
From Toyetic to Toyesis: The Cultural Value of Merchandising	23
Jason Bainbridge
Toyetics and Paratextuality	24
A History of Toys	26
Toyetics to Toyesis	30
Conclusion	35

Notes	37
References	38
Screaming on a Ride to Nowhere: What Roller Coasters Teach Us About Being Human	41
Dana Anderson and Malcolm Burt
Can't Buy a Thrill – or Can You?	43
Paying for Fear in the Era of Terror	46
It's Coaster Time!	49
Conclusion: Why we Ride	53
Notes	55
References	56
Entertainment for the Mind, Body and Spirit	59
Tyrha M. Lindsey-Warren
The Roots of 'Edu-Tainment'	61
Narratives and Storytelling	63
A Typology of Health Edu-Tainment	63
Conclusion	67
References	68
Talking Miley: The Value of Celebrity Gossip	71
Toija Cinque and Sean Redmond
Research Methodology	76
Unruly Desire, Cathartic Affect and the Value of Tweeting	76
The Face that Can't be Tamed	82
Conclusion	87
References	88
MasterChef Australia: Educating and Empowering Through Entertainment	91
Katherine Kirkwood
The Personalities: Judges, Celebrity Guests, and the Contestants	93
Redefining Cooking Demonstration	100
The Travelling Advertisement	102

From the Raw to the Cooked	103
Conclusion	105
References	106
Public and Private Adolescent Lives: The Educational Value of Entertainment	109
Pilar Lacasa, Laura Méndez and Sara Cortés
The Concept of Entertainment	110
Avatars, Cyber Drama, Simulation and Virtual Reality	112
Identity: Public and Private Lives	112
Methodology	114
The Workshop and the Required Data	116
Results: Analysis and Discussion	116
Simulating and Sharing the World Through an Avatar	117
Imaginary Worlds: Performing and Sharing Identity	122
Conclusion	125
Notes	128
References	128
From Moomba to the Dreaming: Indigenous Australia, Popular Music and Reconciliation	131
Andrew King
The Moomba and Beyond – Aboriginal Musical Promotion in the 1950s and 1960s	132
Beyond the Bush – ‘Settlement Bands’ of the 1980s	136
Tribal Voice to Mainstream Icons – 1990s World Music	140
Black and Deadly: Indigenous Vibes in the 2000s	142
Conclusion: Integrated Indigenous Promotion	145
Notes	146
References	146
Entering The Newsroom: The Sociocultural Value of ‘Semi-Fictional’ Entertainment and Popular Communication	149
Chris Peters
Popular Entertainment as Catalyst for Political Critique	151
The Role of Journalism in Contemporary Society	154

Cable News and The Newsroom as Semi-Fictional Entertainment	156
Study Recap – The Newsroom and Public Reflections on Journalism	158
Conclusion: Entertainment and Journalism Rethought	161
Notes	162
References	162
What If ‘Journalism’ Is the Problem?: Entertainment and the ‘De-mediatization’ of Politics	165
Stephen Harrington
The ‘Death’ of Journalism	166
The Mediatization of Politics	167
‘De-mediatization’?	172
Conclusion	175
References	176
Spoof Videos: Entertainment and Alternative Memory in China	179
Henry Siling Li
Airbrushed Out of History	179
Memory and Power	180
China’s Memory Policy	181
Little Rabbit, Be Good and the Counter-Narrative	183
Grass-Mud Horse and the Subversion of Ideographs	188
The Political Value of Spoof Videos	191
Notes	191
References	192
Decoding Memes: Barthes’ Punctum, Feminist Standpoint Theory, and the Political Significance of #YesAllWomen	195
Whitney Phillips and Ryan M Milner
#YesAllWomen and the Expansive Meme	196
Barthes’ Punctum and Memetic Resonance	202
Memetic Standpoint Theory	205
From #YesAllWomen to Popular Media Texts: Weaving the Threads of the Political Punctum	207
References	209

Why I Wasn't Interested in Hitchcock Until I Turned 40: Valuing Films as Entertainment	213
Alan McKee
Valuing Hitchcock as Entertainment	215
The Aesthetic System of Entertainment	216
Does It Have a Good Story?	217
Do I have an Emotional Reaction to It?	219
Do I Find the Ending to be Satisfying?	221
Is It Fun?	223
Conclusion: Rescuing Hitchcock the Entertainer	224
References	225
Fluff, Frivolity, and the Fabulous Samantha Jones: Representations of Public Relations in Entertainment	229
Ella Chorazy and Stephen Harrington
The Cultural Contribution of Sex and The City	231
Industry and Professional Relationships	232
Work and Publicity	234
Ease and Lifestyle	236
Attitude, Acumen, and Character Complexity	239
Gender, Emotionality, and Sex	241
Stereotypes, Accuracy, and the Value of Entertainment	244
References	245
From Deep Throat to Don Jon: The Pornographication of Cinematic Entertainment	251
Brian McNair
From 'Men Only' to Mass Entertainment: The Mainstreaming of Pornography	252
The Pornographication of Entertainment	257
Porno Chic as Entertainment	260
Conclusion	265
Notes	265
Filmography	265

To Understand the Futures of Film-going, We Must Know Its Histories	269
Henry Jenkins
History 1: The History of Exhibition	270
History 2: The History of Fandom	272
History 3: A History of Transmedia	275
Index	279

LIST OF FIGURES

Fig. 1	A sign of the times: Scientific versus durational temporalities at play in the ride queue	51
Fig. 2	Conceptual framework for health edu-tainment typology	65
Fig. 3	Tweets and retweets using #Bangerz (1 August 2014 to 14 August 2014)	80
Fig. 4	Tweets and retweets using the search term ‘MileyCyrus’ (1 August 2014 to 14 August 2014)	81
Fig. 5	The top retweeted user and the top tweeter	82
Fig. 6	Commercial video games, entertainment and education	111
Fig. 7	Identity construction in the workshop: public and private worlds	118
Fig. 8	Interpretation synthesis	127
Fig. 9	Serve the rabbits, build a harmonious forest	186
Fig. 10	Top panel: The Kool-Aid Man – a corporate mascot known for destructive entrances – smashes into a room from the outside and declares to its inhabitants, ‘not all men’	200

LIST OF TABLES

Table 1	Number of impressions using #MileyCyrus (1 August to 14 August 2014)	77
Table 2	Main corpus of data includes a synthesis of the main data focusing on the blog	117
Table 3	Allusions to real life events in China	185