Creative Cognition and the Cultural Panorama of Twentieth-Century Spain
This page intentionally left blank
CREATIVE COGNITION AND THE CULTURAL PANORAMA OF TWENTIETH-CENTURY SPAIN

Candelas Gala
Para Paul, Isabel, Tonia y Juliet, mis cuatro puntos cardinales
Contents

List of Figures ix
Acknowledgments xi
Introduction 1

1 Creative Convulsion: José María Hinojosa and La Flor de California
   • An Aside with Saint Sebastian, Salvador Dalí, and Federico García Lorca 19

2 Creative Dialectics: José Moreno Villa and Jacinta la pelirroja 43

3 Creative Measurements: Plastic-Dynamic Development in Maruja Mallo’s Naturalezas vivas 69

4 Creative Beatitude: Jorge Guillén and Baruch Spinoza
   • An Aside with Antoni Tàpies 97

5 Creative Quietude. A Transdisciplinary Encounter: Clara Janés, Eduardo Chillida, and María Zambrano 121

6 Creative Artifacts: Agustín Fernández Mallo’s Post-Poetry Proposal (Sharing Thoughts with Wittgenstein) 165

Closing Remarks 211
Notes 217
Works Cited 233
Index 249
This page intentionally left blank
List of Figures

2.1 Untitled [Peces/Fish]. 46
2.2 Untitled [Cuadro cubista/Cubist Painting]. 50
2.3 Untitled [“Bailaré con Jacinta la pelirroja”/I Will Dance with Redhead Jacinta]. 52
2.4 Untitled. 55
2.5 Untitled. 58
2.6 El Universo está en la Poesía [The Universe Is in Poetry]. 59
2.7 Untitled. 61
2.8 Untitled [“El duende”/The Elf]. 64
2.9 Untitled. 65
5.1 Untitled. 131
5.2 Untitled. 137
5.3 Untitled. 142
5.4 Untitled. 152
5.5 Untitled. 155
5.6 Untitled. 159
I want to thank the Reynolds Research Leave Program at Wake Forest University for providing me one semester free from teaching responsibilities to allow the completion of this book project, whose beginnings dated back some three years.

I also owe a very heartfelt recognition to José Antonio Mesa Toré, Director of the Centro Cultural Generación del 27 in Málaga (Spain), for facilitating a number of crucial works related to poet José María Hinojosa, and for putting me in contact with Alfonso Sánchez Rodríguez, indefatigable researcher of Hinojosa’s works, and to whom I am also indebted for his constant support of my own research.

It was through the mediation of José Antonio Mesa Toré that I came in contact with D. José Moreno Nieto, the son of author José Moreno Villa. Thanks to Mr. Moreno Nieto’s generosity, his father’s drawings included in Jacinta, la pelirroja are reproduced here, thus providing a much richer and more complete appreciation of this author’s seminal book.

The chapter on Maruja Mallo is indebted to the Guillermo de Osma Galería in Madrid and, particularly, to its curators, José Ignacio and Miriam, who provided the central text for Maruja Mallo’s Naturalezas vivas series and a wealth of information coming from Mallo’s contact with the gallery.

I cannot thank Clara Janés enough for her friendship and wisdom, which have been an essential support and inspiration for this project and many others that I have dedicated to her writings. Her generosity has made it possible to quote some of her poems in their complete form. Regarding her collaboration with Eduardo Chillida, Clara’s generosity went as far as intervening with Ignacio Chillida, the artist’s son, and with the Chillida Museum Leku, to facilitate the reproduction of Eduardo Chillida’s engravings. I am also extending my thanks to Ignacio Chillida and to Nausica Sánchez, at the library of the Chillida Museum, for facilitating the rights for reproducing the engravings.

The Fundación Gerardo Diego and Centro de Documentación de la poesía Española del siglo XX, and its director, Pureza Canelo, are a necessary reference for any research related to the cultural panorama of twentieth-century Spain.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS
I also wish to thank Bakhit Kourman, for his technical expertise with the images, and Dr. Isabel G. Newton for providing the image for the book cover, which, in consonance with her medical field, explores the process of introspection while alluding to the central nervous system through references to the hippocampus, gyri and sulci, cochlea, and homunculus.

And as always, my love and gratitude go to Paul D. Escott, the best editor an author could ever have.