

Citizenship, Gender and Diversity

Series Editors

Beatrice Halsaa
Centre for Gender Research
University of Oslo
Oslo, Norway

Sasha Roseneil
Department of Psychosocial Studies
Birkbeck College - University of London
London, United Kingdom

Sevil Sümer
UNI Rokkansenteret
University of Bergen
Bergen, Norway

Aims of the series

Developed out of FEMCIT, a research project funded under the Sixth Framework of the European Commission examining gendered citizenship, multiculturalism and the impact of contemporary women's movements in Europe, the series also welcomes submissions from scholars around the globe working in this area on projects with either a European or international focus.

More information about this series at <http://www.springer.com/series/14900>

Carly Guest

Becoming Feminist

Narratives and Memories

palgrave
macmillan

Carly Guest
Department of Criminology and Sociology
Middlesex University
London, UK

Citizenship, Gender and Diversity
ISBN 978-1-137-53180-3 ISBN 978-1-137-53181-0 (eBook)
DOI 10.1057/978-1-137-53181-0

Library of Congress Control Number: 2016942664

© The Editor(s) (if applicable) and The Author(s) 2016

The author(s) has/have asserted their right(s) to be identified as the author(s) of this work in accordance with the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988.

This work is subject to copyright. All rights are solely and exclusively licensed by the Publisher, whether the whole or part of the material is concerned, specifically the rights of translation, reprinting, reuse of illustrations, recitation, broadcasting, reproduction on microfilms or in any other physical way, and transmission or information storage and retrieval, electronic adaptation, computer software, or by similar or dissimilar methodology now known or hereafter developed.

The use of general descriptive names, registered names, trademarks, service marks, etc. in this publication does not imply, even in the absence of a specific statement, that such names are exempt from the relevant protective laws and regulations and therefore free for general use.

The publisher, the authors and the editors are safe to assume that the advice and information in this book are believed to be true and accurate at the date of publication. Neither the publisher nor the authors or the editors give a warranty, express or implied, with respect to the material contained herein or for any errors or omissions that may have been made.

Cover illustration: © Rachel Johnston Cover design by Oscar Spigolon

Printed on acid-free paper

This Palgrave Macmillan imprint is published by Springer Nature
The registered company is Macmillan Publishers Ltd. London

For my grandparents Gwladys and Humphrey Cook and my parents Jenny and Rob Guest

Acknowledgements

There are so many people who have helped me through the process of writing this book. I want to begin by thanking all the women who took part in this research. They generously invited me into their homes, shared their stories, memories and photographs with me and gave their time to this project. Each of them was inspiring, engaging and informative in so many different ways.

I started this research in the Department of Psychosocial Studies at Birkbeck, University of London, where I was very fortunate to benefit from the wisdom and expertise of Lynne Segal and Sasha Roseneil. There are many other people I met at Birkbeck who left their mark on my work in various ways. In particular Amber Jacobs, William Potter, Elizabeth Hughes and Sam McBean—with whom co-organising events for the Birkbeck Interdisciplinary Gender and Sexuality group was both an enjoyable and fruitful experience. I am always grateful for the advice and encouragement of Matt Cook. His insightful comments on a draft of this book have been incredibly helpful. Elisa Lewis also read a draft of this book, and I am very thankful to her for her detailed and thoughtful comments. Thank you also to Amrit Wilson for her extremely helpful comments on Chap. 3 and 4 in particular. I finished writing this book in the Department of Criminology and Sociology at Middlesex University, where colleagues have been so welcoming and helpful. In particular, it has been a pleasure to work closely with Rachel Seoighe and Santiago Amietta.

I would like to thank the series editors Beatrice Halsaa, Sasha Roseneil and Sevil Sümer for including this work in the Citizenship, Gender and Diversity series. Thank you also to Editor Philippa Grand and Editorial Assistant Judith Allan for their expert guidance throughout this process. Ant Kutschera kindly gave permission for the reproduction of his image in Chap. 4 and Rachel Johnston for the use of her beautiful work 'Together' on this book's cover. Sandra Kerr generously gave permission for the reproduction of lyrics from her wonderful song 'No Going Back' in Chap. 3. Thank you also to Georgia Price for her help in formatting the images.

Whilst writing this book I was part of an auto/biographical research methods group led by Gayle Letherby and Oonagh Corrigan. Our shared research journey has been a wonderful learning experience. I left each meeting feeling excited, inspired and keen to keep researching and writing. Thank you to Gayle, Oonagh, Abbi Davies, Hannah Fletcher, Michelle Paul, Becky Smith and Lucy Taylor.

I am lucky to have many wonderful friends who have each played an important part in this process at various stages. Thanks to Zoe Boden, Laura Brereton, Alana Delaney, Kate Gerrard, Lisa Gardener, Abi Groves, Natasha Hoffman-Frater, Ofra Koffman, Laura McGrath, Becky Morris, Stewart Muir, Edel Quinn and Sarah Williams and to friends and neighbours Bitá Nafissi, Reeshi Shah, Amie Ford, Jack Woodward, Rosamund Currie and Will Lahr. I am forever grateful to my parents Jenny and Rob Guest for always being there to offer love, encouragement and fried egg sandwiches. I have enjoyed spending breaks from writing with my lovely sisters Kate Wood and Rowen Wood and their partners, Kevin and Tom. Thank you to Chris and John Armstrong for their interest and support and to Darcy and Evan Armstrong who are always a joy to spend time with. I would especially like to thank James Armstrong for always being there to offer perspective, reassurance and laughter. This process would have been so much more difficult without him. Finally, thanks to Fox, for many things, not least making me leave my desk and go for a walk.

Contents

1	Introduction	1
2	Narratives and Memories of Feminism	11
3	Rebecca: Class, Politics and Family	49
4	Aaliyah and Jenny: Feminist Hope	85
5	Richa, Ruby and Beth: Feeling Feminism	125
6	The Memory-Work Group: Feminist Belonging	163
7	Becoming Feminist	199
	Appendix A: Interviewee Summaries	209
	Appendix B: Memory-Work Participant Summaries	211

Appendix C: Guidelines for Writing Memories (Haug et al. 1987)	213
Appendix D: Memory-Work Analysis Guidelines (Haug et al. 1987)	215
References	217
Index	235

List of Figures

Fig. 3.1	Rebecca's mother, blurred at Rebecca's request (Date unknown)	74
Fig. 4.1	Mary Church Terrell (1880–1900) The Library of Congress	86
Fig. 4.2	Washing-up (2009) c. Ant Kutschera	110
Fig. 5.1	Queer and Loving It (Date unknown) Taken by Beth	152
Fig. 5.2	Anti-cuts demonstration (2011) Taken by Beth	153
Fig. 5.3	Halloween (Date unknown) Taken by Beth	156
Fig. 6.1	This is what a feminist sounds like (Date unknown) Taken by Beth	164