Acknowledgements

THIS book was originally written as a B. Litt. thesis in the early 1960s. In attempting to patch and mend it so many years later I am painfully aware how threadbare it still is. I owe a great deal to many friends. I hope they will forgive me if I mention here only my first tutor, Beryl Smalley, my supervisor, Richard Southern, who first suggested the subject to me, and both Denis Bethell and Maurice Keen as editors. I would also like to thank the trustees of the William Abel Pantin Memorial Fund for their generosity. My greatest debt is to my family and to their tolerance of 'wilderness'.
