Acknowledgements

This monograph represents a revision of my 1982 Ph.D. dissertation submitted to the University of California, Berkeley. I would like to thank members of my dissertation committee -- Professors Kenneth Craik, Jack Block, and William M. Runyan, who each made important contributions to the development of my ideas. Professors David Buss, Harrison Gough, and William Meredith each provided useful aid at various points in the dissertation process. The support of NIMH Grant 16080, Drs. Jack and Jeanne Block, principal investigators, greatly facilitated the completion of the dissertation.

Suzanne Manton provided considerable effort in disposing of the many clerical and word-processing tasks necessary to complete this monograph. I greatly appreciate her quick and accurate work.

Most of all, I wish to thank Springer-Verlag for providing the opportunity to publish this work in their monograph series.
