Acknowledgments

I would like to thank my colleagues at Kennebec Behavioral Health Clinic in Waterville Maine, also at the Carilion Clinic in Roanoke, Virginia for their advice, suggestions, and encouragement during this project. I owe a particular debt to Gary Curtis, Child Psychologist, at Carilion Clinic for his critical reading of my manuscript and for his many helpful recommendations. For her excellent and steadfast support of the literature review, I am grateful to Jane Burnette, Hospital Librarian at Carilion Roanoke Hospital. I would also like to thank my wife Marikje Shreeve, Advanced Practice Nurse in Psychiatry, for her professional review of the many drafts, as well as for her patience and inspiration throughout the process of writing and revising.
