

Part IV

Machine Learning for Analog Design

The successful construction of all machinery depends on the perfection of the tools employed, and whoever is a master in the art of tool-making possesses the key to the construction of all machines.

Charles Babbage