

Competition in Higher Education Branding and Marketing

Antigoni Papadimitriou
Editor

Competition in Higher Education
Branding and Marketing

National and Global Perspectives

palgrave
macmillan

Editor

Antigoni Papadimitriou
School of Education
Johns Hopkins University
Baltimore, MD, USA

ISBN 978-3-319-58526-0      ISBN 978-3-319-58527-7 (eBook)
DOI 10.1007/978-3-319-58527-7

Library of Congress Control Number: 2017945794

© The Editor(s) (if applicable) and The Author(s) 2018

This work is subject to copyright. All rights are solely and exclusively licensed by the Publisher, whether the whole or part of the material is concerned, specifically the rights of translation, reprinting, reuse of illustrations, recitation, broadcasting, reproduction on microfilms or in any other physical way, and transmission or information storage and retrieval, electronic adaptation, computer software, or by similar or dissimilar methodology now known or hereafter developed.

The use of general descriptive names, registered names, trademarks, service marks, etc. in this publication does not imply, even in the absence of a specific statement, that such names are exempt from the relevant protective laws and regulations and therefore free for general use.

The publisher, the authors and the editors are safe to assume that the advice and information in this book are believed to be true and accurate at the date of publication. Neither the publisher nor the authors or the editors give a warranty, express or implied, with respect to the material contained herein or for any errors or omissions that may have been made. The publisher remains neutral with regard to jurisdictional claims in published maps and institutional affiliations.

Cover illustration: © s0ulsurfing - Jason Swain

Printed on acid-free paper

This Palgrave Macmillan imprint is published by Springer Nature
The registered company is Springer International Publishing AG
The registered company address is: Gewerbestrasse 11, 6330 Cham, Switzerland

This book is dedicated to my colleagues and friends around the globe who continue to support and inspire me. This book is for all of us who try to survive and succeed under multiple challenges.

CONTENTS

- 1 Introduction: Mapping the Global Brandscape of Higher Education 1
Gerardo Blanco Ramírez
- 2 Pathways from Academe to Industry: An Empirical Analysis of Academic Marketing to Prospective Students 13
Kem Saichaie and Jarrett B. Warshaw
- 3 Marketing Context and Branding Content of Private Universities in Chile and Mexico 37
Germán Álvarez-Mendiola and Miguel Alejandro González-Ledesma
- 4 Brand Communication in Flemish Higher Education: A Comparison Between Types of Institutions 63
Jelle Mampaey
- 5 Using a Mixed Methods Approach to Examine the (Re)Imaging of Higher Education Institutions in the Western Balkans 81
Antigoni Papadimitriou

6	Branding and the Search for Competitive Advantage in the Field of Mozambican Higher Education Through the Use of Websites	107
	Patrício V. Langa and Nelson C. Zavale
7	Higher Education: The Impacts of Educational Brand on Students' Decision to Enroll Through Advertising Brochures for Higher Education Institutions in Surabaya Indonesia	143
	Jenny Ngo and Decky A. Ismandoyo
8	The Notion of Branding in the Higher Education Sector: The Case of Hong Kong	159
	Queenie K.H. Lam and Hayes H.H. Tang
9	Alumni Engagement in Higher Education: A Matter of Marketing and Leveraging Social Identities	181
	Noah D. Drezner
10	Branding by Proxy? How Hubs Market (or not) Higher Education Systems Globally: The Example of Qatar	197
	Leon Cremonini and John Taylor
11	Higher Education Institutional Rankings: Evaluating Their Credibility for Branding and Marketing	221
	Gerald W. McLaughlin, Joesetta S. McLaughlin and Jacqueline E. McLaughlin
12	Conclusions and Reflections on Branding and Marketing in Higher Education	239
	Antigoni Papadimitriou and Gerardo Blanco Ramírez
	Index	249

EDITOR AND CONTRIBUTORS

About the Editor

Antigoni Papadimitriou is Assistant Professor of Leadership at the Division of Public Safety Leadership, School of Education, The Johns Hopkins University. She also is a visiting professor at Solvay School of Economics and Open University HCMC in Vietnam where she teaches Performance Evaluation. A highly motivated, dedicated experienced international higher education scholar with research and teaching activities in across the globe (Greece, Norway, Netherlands, the USA, Western Balkans, and Vietnam). Antigoni's research agenda includes higher education leadership, quality management, marketing and branding, assessments of student learning, as well as mixed methods research. Currently, Antigoni's work focused on branding and marketing in higher education, leadership, innovation, and community development.

Contributors

Germán Álvarez-Mendiola works for the Department of Educational Research at the Centre for Advanced Research and Studies. He has a large experience as a teacher in secondary and high school levels, as well as a Professor at undergraduate and graduate level. His research interests are: public policies and organizational change in higher education; private higher education; lifelong learning policies and institutions; and adult learners in higher education. He coordinates the book series “Higher Education Library” of National Association of Universities and Higher Education Institutions. He is a member of the International Committee of International Workshops on Higher Education annual series.

Gerardo Blanco Ramírez is Assistant Professor in the Higher Education Doctoral Program at the University of Massachusetts Boston. His research explores the intersections of quality, branding and position taking in the context of global competition in higher education. This analysis incorporates critical perspectives of globalization and internationalization. Gerardo is an internationally engaged scholar and his research and teaching span across four continents. His work has been published in the Comparative Education Review, Higher Education, and Studies in Higher Education, among many others.

Leon Cremonini is a researcher at the University of Twente’s Center for Higher Education Policy Studies since 2006. A graduate in International Political Science from the University of Bologna, Italy. Leon has worked both in Europe and in the USA. His research focuses on higher education policy reform, internationalization, quality assessment, university and program rankings, equity and access to higher education, and higher education in emergencies. He has worked in several countries across Africa and Asia as well as with the Dutch Ministry of Education, Culture and Science. Leon has presented papers and published on these topics.

Noah D. Drezner is Associate Professor of higher education at Teachers College, Columbia University, and founding editor of the journal Philanthropy & Education. He is internationally known as a leading researcher on educational philanthropy. His research interests include philanthropy and fundraising as it pertains to colleges and universities, including higher education’s role in the cultivation of prosocial behaviors. Currently, Dr. Drezner’s work is based in identity-based philanthropy. In other words, he is researching how a person’s social identities affect their giving to higher education and how colleges and universities can engage their alumni in more inclusive ways.

Miguel Alejandro González-Ledesma holds a Ph.D. in Political Science from the Scuola Normale Superior de Pisa, in Italy. Since 2016 he has a postdoctoral position at the Research Institute on University and Education (IISUE) of the National Autonomous University in Mexico (UNAM). He is also lecturer on Geopolitics at the School of Philosophy and Literature (FFyL-UNAM). His research interests lie in the area of Higher Education studies, particularly governance, funding, quality assurance, and student movements.

Decky A. Ismandoyo earned his Bachelor degree of Visual Communication Design from Petra Christian University in Surabaya and then Mr. Decky continued his Masters degree in the field of Creative Marketing at Surabaya University in Surabaya. Since 2013, he has been pursuing his Ph.D. in the field of Visual Arts at Institute Seni Indonesia (Indonesia Arts Institute) in Surakarta, Central Java. His research focuses on visual advertising strategy. In his professional life, Mr. Decky owns “Adaide”, a design agency which has already served lots of institutions and companies as the clients.

Queenie K.H. Lam is a Ph.D. candidate of the Centre for Higher Education Governance Ghent (CHEGG) and the International Centre for Higher Education Research-Kassel (Germany). Her Doctoral project focuses on university marketing communication, particularly, branding and rankings. Queenie is also project manager of the Brussels-based Academic Cooperation Association (ACA), where she has been responsible for the management of EU projects and policy research on issues related to the internationalization of higher education. Queenie holds a B.A. (Translation) and an MPhil (Communication) degree from The Chinese University of Hong Kong, and an M.A. (International Higher Education Development and Research) from INCHER-Kassel.

Patrício V. Langa is Associate Professor of Higher Education Studies at the Faculty of Education at the University of the Western Cape (UWC) in South Africa and Eduardo Mondlane University (UEM) in Mozambique. He is a visiting scholar and Research Fellow at Danube Krems University, Austria. He is also adviser to UEM Rector on Strategic Planning. From 2012 to 2015, he served as the Executive Director for External Evaluation of the National Council on Quality Assurance in Mozambique (CNAQ) and currently holds the position of Non-Executive Director. Langa founded and served as Director of the Centre for Higher Education Studies and Development (CESD). He is a founding member and current President of the Mozambican Sociological Association (A.M.S). Langa’s research interest are located the intersection of sociology and higher education studies in Africa. He has published in both Sociology and higher education Journals.

Jelle Mampaey is Assistant Professor of Marketing at Open University (Heerlen, The Netherlands) and a member of EqualDiv@Work, an international network of researchers with an interest in socio-demographic diversity management in organizations. He holds a Masters in Psychology and a Doctoral degree in Business Administration. His research focuses on marketing and management in higher education.

Gerald W. McLaughlin has been the Director of Institutional Research at Virginia Tech and at DePaul University. He has served as President of the Association of Institutional Research and the Southern AIR and has been recognized as a Distinguished Member in both. He has authored and co-edited numerous publications. His current research interest include analytic methodology, metrics for institutional diversity, and the use of college rankings.

Jacqueline E. McLaughlin Ph.D. is Assistant Professor of educational innovation and research and Director of the Office of Strategic Planning and Assessment at the University of North Carolina (UNC) Eshelman School of Pharmacy. She has authored and co-authored publications in higher education and health professions education concerning various aspects of quality and measurement.

Josetta S. McLaughlin Associate Professor Emerita of Management at Roosevelt University, has authored and co-authored publications in business and higher education. She served on the faculties of Roosevelt University and Radford University where courses taught include strategic management and corporate social responsibility and sustainability. Her current research interests include business ethics, institutional sustainability, and student diversity and success.

Dr. Jenny Ngo is a senior lecturer and a scholar at Sekolah Tinggi Teknik Surabaya in Surabaya, Indonesia. Dr. Ngo received her both Masters and Ph.D. degrees in Education from University of Twente in 2002 and 2013 respectively. In 2012–2013, Dr. Ngo was one of the teaching staff at the faculty of Behavioral Sciences, University of Twente, the Netherlands. Her primary teaching and research interests include academic English, (educational) leadership and management, and educational branding. In her professional life, she is a leadership program developer and trainer.

Kem Saichaie is Associate Director of the Center for Education Effectiveness and a Lecturer in the School of Education at the University of California, Davis. His research interests include academic and organizational identify, pedagogical innovations, and the role of space and technology on student learning. Kem has published in a variety of outlets including, The Journal of Higher Education, International Journal for the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning, and New Directions in Institutional Research. He is the co-author of A Guide to Teaching in Active Learning Classrooms: History, Research and Practice. Kem received his Ph.D. from the University of Iowa.

Hayes H.H. Tang is Assistant Professor at the Education University of Hong Kong. A sociologist, Hayes is interested in the fields of education policy, academic profession, and youth studies. He is committed to create new knowledge in application for enhanced alignment between education and the world of work/professions in East Asia's entrepreneurial societies. Currently, he conducts researches on graduate entrepreneurship, entrepreneurial intentions, and research-intensive universities. His recent publications include "Academic capitalism in Greater China: Theme and variations" (2014) and "Knowledge exchange by the Hong Kong academic profession: In comparative perspective with South Korea" (2017).

John Taylor Professor, has over 20 years of experience as a senior manager in higher education and in higher education research. He has been employed at the Universities of Leeds, Sheffield, and Southampton, and is currently a visiting professor at Lancaster University's Department of Educational Research. John has worked in Europe, Asia, Africa, South and North America, conducting professional development trainings and comparative research on strategy and planning; resource allocation (including inter alia marketization and value for money); governance and organizational structures; internationalization and globalization; quality management in higher education; and access and widening participation.

Jarrett B. Warsaw is Assistant Professor in the Department of Educational Leadership and Research Methodology at Florida Atlantic University. His research interests include postsecondary organization, finance, and policy, with an emphasis on understanding how colleges and universities change, adapt, and innovate in relation to their external environments. He received his Ph.D. from the Institute of Higher Education at the University of Georgia, where he was a Presidential Fellow of the Graduate School.

Nelson C. Zavale is Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Education at Eduardo Mondlane University in Mozambique. He is also the Executive Director of the Centre for Higher Education Studies and Development (CESD) and researcher of the UEM Academic Quality Office. Currently, he is a postdoctoral research fellow at the Centre for African Studies, University of Basel, Switzerland. Zavale has published in the fields of curriculum studies and sociology of education.

LIST OF FIGURES

Fig. 5.1	Overall picture of social media in WB public and private HEIs	89
Fig. 5.2	Distribution of social media within public and private HEIs in the WB	89
Fig. 10.1	Framework for interpreting hubs (models)	202

LIST OF TABLES

Table 3.1	Branding content by selected universities in Chile and Mexico	53
Table 5.1	Mapping HEIs in the Western Balkans and their homepages	87
Table 5.2	Analyzing English homepages in the WB focusing on quality and exotericism	91
Table 5.3	Mapping the quality and exotericism messages in English homepages in the WB HEIs	100
Table 6.1a	Sample of visited websites of public HEIs and year of establishment	117
Table 6.1b	Sample of visited websites of private HEIs and year of establishment	118
Table 6.2	Analysing brand and HEIs differentiation through names, symbol or combination of these items in institutional websites	121