Acknowledgements

This book would not have been possible without the support of my family, friends and colleagues. To Andrew Feenberg and Megan Boler who have provided me with personal and professional guidance. I would especially like to thank Oscar Gandy for his wisdom and patience. As my mentor, he has taught me more than I could ever give him credit for here.

I extend gratitude to my colleagues Neil Selwyn, Scott Bulfin, David Gruber, Ben Williamson, Nick Couldry, Paul Edwards, Leslie Regan-Shade, Alison Powell and all those at the UCL Knowledge Lab who have shared their knowledge with me. My dear friends Didem Ozkul, Sam White, Ester Fritsch, Matthew Cunliffe and Samuel Brenton, all of whom helped me along the way.

In terms of the production and publication of this book, the anonymous reviewers were of great help offering suggestions for improvements. I extend sincere thanks to the staff of Palgrave Macmillan, particularly my editor Shaun Vigil and assistant editor Glenn Ramirez.

Last but not least, nobody has been more important to me while undertaking this project than my family. I would like to thank my daughter whose love is always with me. I also wish to thank my mother who has always given me her unwavering support.
