

Teil III: Integration von Theorie & Empirie

We need an organization theory because some phenomena are more conveniently described in terms of organizations and parts of organizations than in terms of the individual human beings who inhabit those parts.

(Simon 1997: 229)