Acknowledgements

The development of this volume benefited through the kind efforts of many friends and colleagues. Its origin was a series of lectures funded largely though a couple of generous grants from the Matchette Foundation, with additional funding from St. Edward’s University. I am deeply thankful to the contributors, who recast their essays several times over the course of a couple of years, to craft the final versions contained herein. A special debt is owed to H. Tristram Engelhardt, Jr., Ana Iltis and Lisa Rasmussen, who are excellent colleagues and the best of friends.

I also wish to recognize the on-going generosity of St. Edward’s University, the School of Humanities, and the Philosophy Department, especially Donna Jurick, SND, Louis T. Brusatti, William J. Zanardi, Peter Wake, Jack Green Musselman, and Stephen Dilley. Each has been instrumental, though in diverse capacities, to the success of this project. Thanks are also due to Gricelda Silva, who helped with the editorial process as my research assistant. As with all of my projects, this volume would not exist without the constant support, kindness, and love of my wife Mollie.
