Acknowledgments

We would like to express our indebtedness to the late Prof. Dr. Liu Rui-yu, who was a pioneer in studying crustacean of China and left us a great deal of valuable reference material of the alpheid shrimps. These large collections of reference material were obtained from several expeditions. Therefore, we are deeply indebted to all the collectors, including Chen Mu, Cheng Li-ren, Cui Yu-hang, Ding Lan-ping, Fan Zhen-gang, Fang Xiu-bin, Jiang Jin-xiang, Li Huan-lin, Li Jin-he, Li Xin-zheng, Liang Guan-sheng, Liao Yu-lin, Liu Rui-yu, Liu Ji-xing, Liu Xi-xing, Ma Xiu-tong, Volker Neumann, Ren Xian-qiu, Ruan Wen-guang, Shen Shou-peng, Sun Ke-zhi, Sun Fu-zeng, Tang Zhican, Wang Yong-liang, Wang Yong-qiang, Wu Bao-ling, Wu Xu-wen, Xu Feng-shan, Xu Jie-shan, Zhang Bao-lin, Zhang Jun-long, Zhang Wei-quan, and Zheng Feng, who offered us abundant specimens of alpheids to examine. Two of the collectors, Ren Xian-qiu and Wang Yong-liang, although retired from active systematic research, graciously gave close attention to the draft of this report and considerably enhanced its value. The report has also been materially improved by a detailed review by our colleagues Cheng Jiao, Sun Shao'e, and Yuan Zi-ming. We also thank all the workers in the Marine Biological Museum, CAS. Although the present report is not perfect, as a young team, we wish it would be helpful for the further research of the crustacean.
