Made in India
Sexuality, Obscenity, Community:
Women, Muslims, and the Hindu Public in Colonial India
by Charu Gupta

Twenty-First-Century Feminist Classrooms:
Pedagogies of Identity and Difference
edited by Amie A. Macdonald and Susan Sánchez-Casal

Reading across Borders
Storytelling and Knowledges of Resistance
by Shari Stone-Mediatore

Made in India
Decolonizations, Queer Sexualities, Transnational Projects
by Suparna Bhaskaran
Made in India
Decolonizations, Queer Sexualities, Trans/national Projects

Suparna Bhaskaran
Contents

List of Illustrations vii
Acknowledgments ix

1. Introduction 1
2. The Evidence of Arrogant Experience: Boomerang Anthropology and Curdled Otherness 15
4. Taxonomic Desires, the Sutram of Kama, and the World Bank: “Sexual Minorities” and Section 377 of the Indian Penal Code 71
5. Inverting Economic Man: Pleasure, Violence, and “Lesbian Pacts” in Postcolonial India 111

Notes 151
Bibliography 167
Index 177
List of Illustrations

3.1. The ad. with Sushmita Sen for New Wonder Wings Feminine napkins. 45
3.2. The ad. for Hero Miss India. 65
4.1. Kama Sutra Premium Condoms. 76
This page intentionally left blank
Acknowledgments

First and foremost, I would like to thank Chandra Talpade Mohanty, my series editor at Palgrave/St. Martin Press. She was first to envision this book and wanted to publish it. Chandra’s intellectual work and astute readings have left their mark on this book. The book brings together years of conversation, reflection, virtual, and flesh-blood friendships with persons interested in local and trans/national solidarity and political work. Maria Lugones and Marilyn Frye have been models for mentorship, intellectual integrity, and political commitment. Their work, attention, and care have left huge imprints on this book and my work. I am indebted to Erin Davis, Ruth Vanita, Grace Poore, Jean Gregorek, Giti Thadani, and Frances Hasso for conversations, reality checks, and valuable criticisms. Many of you have braved through drafts of a chapter and some the entire manuscript. Special thanks to Geeta Patel and Kath Weston for their encouragement and help for so many years. Your help in wading through the publication process has been invaluable. Thank you, Kath, for valuable comments on a late draft of a chapter. Also, thanks to Deborah Elliston and Vanessa Long for commenting on a very early draft of a chapter. Thanks to many of my students and colleagues at Antioch College. In particular, Araby Carlier, Amy Killoran, Ritch Kerns, and April Spisak for their research and library assistance. Thanks to Pratibha Menon for all her research assistance from Pune and Mumbai, India. Thanks to Liz Kennedy for her editing help. A big thank you to Melissa Nosal, Laura Morrison, Amanda Johnson, Veena Krishnan, Kristi Long, Roee Raz, and Farideh Koohi-Kamali for all their editorial support at Palgrave/St. Martins Press. To Karen Willis, Lisa Sayles, Kali Majumdar, and Kristin Long—Thank you for your care, attention, conversations, and love.