The essays in this part are connected by the way radiologists present themselves, how they reason and how they interact with other physicians. In the first two chapters common fallacies are presented. In the third and fourth, the nature of our relationship with our colleagues is explored in greater detail.

Chapter 35—Fallacies in Reasoning, Part 1
Chapter 36—Fallacies in Reasoning, Part 2
Chapter 37—We Are Radiologists: What Business Are We in?
Chapter 38—Communication vs. Consultation: Two Duties We Must Pursue