Preface

The First European Conference on Information Literacy (ECIL) was co-organized by the Department of Information Management of Hacettepe University, Turkey, and the Department of Information and Communication Sciences of Zagreb University, Croatia. Information literacy (IL), media literacy, and lifelong learning being the main theme, ECIL aimed to bring together researchers, information professionals, media specialists, educators, policymakers and all related parties from around the world to exchange knowledge and experience and discuss current issues and recent developments. In all, 396 proposals—236 of which were in the paper category—were submitted to the conference. All submissions were subjected to a double-blind review process and 93 were accepted as full papers. This book consists of 88 contributions (2 keynotes, 9 invited papers, 73 papers, 4 doctoral papers). Contributions came from 59 different countries (Albania, Australia, Austria, Bangladesh, Belgium, Botswana, Brazil, Bulgaria, Canada, China, Colombia, Croatia, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, India, Iran, Ireland, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Lithuania, Malaysia, Malta, Mexico, The Netherlands, New Zealand, Nigeria, Norway, Pakistan, Philippines, Poland, Portugal, Puerto Rico, Qatar, Romania, Russia, Saudi Arabia, Serbia, Singapore, Slovakia, Slovenia, South Africa, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Taiwan, Tunisia, Turkey, UK, Ukraine, United Arab Emirates, USA) and address a number of issues dealing with, among others, theoretical framework, policies and strategies, the digital divide, disadvantaged groups, IL for the workplace, and IL instruction.

Starting with our own organizations, Hacettepe University and the University of Zagreb, we are grateful to many organizations for their support. Our special thanks go to UNESCO and IFLA, two major organizations that have contributed tremendously to the development of IL, for generously providing their patronage.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the conference keynote speakers Paul G. Zurkowski (who coined the term “information literacy”) and Christine Susan Bruce; the invited speakers (Carla Basili, Albert Boekhorst, John Crawford, Natalia Gendina, Bill Johnston, Evgeny Kuzmin, Jesus Lau, Annemaree Lloyd, Maria Carme Torras-Calve, Sirje Virkus, Li Wang, Sheila Webber); the panel conveners; the workshop presenters; the authors and presenters of papers, best practices, PechaKuchas, posters; and the session chairs. We would like to thank and acknowledge the hard work of the members of the Standing and Program Committees who invested their time generously to make this event happen.

Our editorial team should also be acknowledged here. Special thanks to Esther Grassian, Diane Mizrachi, and Ralph Catts for their hard work and valuable editorial contributions. We also like to thank our proofreaders Yaşar Tonta and Umut Al.

Last but not least, we would like to thank the local Organizing Committee, our sponsors, and the organizing office, ARBER.
