Preface

Welcome to ICSOC-ServiceWave 2009. This volume contains the research and demo papers selected for presentation at the Seventh International Conference on Service-Oriented Computing, which was held in Stockholm, Sweden, November 24-27, 2009.

Continuing the tradition set in the previous six years, we are pleased to present a high-quality technical program. This year ICSOC ServiceWave worked together to convey a world-leading and unique opportunity for academic researchers and industry practitioners to report their state-of-the-art research findings in service-oriented computing. The joint conference aims to foster cross-community scientific excellence by gathering experts from various disciplines such as distributed systems, software engineering, computer networks, business intelligence, service science, grid and cloud computing, and security.

Consistent with the high quality of the conference, we received 228 paper submissions from a number of different disciplines. Thirty-seven papers were accepted as regular contributions, for a very competitive acceptance rate of 16%; eight further submissions were accepted as short papers. The program also comprised nine demonstrations of innovative tools and prototypes. All these elements contributed to a program that covered the many different areas of the discipline and provided an up-to-date synthesis of the research on service-oriented systems and applications.

Without the high-quality work of the authors of selected papers this volume would have not been possible. We thank these researchers and practitioners for the efforts and enthusiasm put in their contributions. We also appreciate the hard work of the members of our Program Committee. Some 100 people were involved in reviewing many good papers carefully and rigorously: it was our privilege to work with these respected colleagues. These efforts were the key elements for a program that represents a highly selective and high-quality set of research results. A big thank you also goes to Springer, and in particular to Ursula Barth, for helping us publish this volume.

It was our privilege and pleasure to compile these outstanding proceedings. We sincerely hope that you find the papers in this volume as interesting and stimulating as we did. Our last big thanks to all participants who, at the end of the day, are what this is all about.
